MACHINE GUNS MOW HARVEST OF DEATH IN PEACE CAPITAL

Many Killed and Wounded in Riots at Geneva Which Start When Crowds Jeer Armed Force in "City of Disarmament" Following Massed Attempt to Invade Political Meeting

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 9 (AP).—Eight men were killed and seventy were wounded by machine gun fire turned on a crowd outside a political meeting at Community Hall, near the university, tonight. A small child's jaw was shot off and the dead men were riddled with bullets.

Police said the shooting began when a crowd hissed soldiers for brandishing arms in the streets of the "disarmament city." The crowd snatched rifles from militiamen and smashed them on the pavement.

The firing was done by a company of soldiers called out to disperse an immense, excited crowd which sought to gain entrance to the Community Hall, where an anti-Socialist meeting was in progress. Police said it was an attempt to break up the meeting.

The riot was the culmination of several weeks of bitter political agitation between Socialists and supporters of the Geneva Government. The Socialists charged the Government with corruption and a number of financial scandals.

LACKED EXPERIENCE

Two companies of young recruits in training at Lausanne were brought here this morning in anticipation of trouble. Their youthfulness and inexperience were blamed by many in the crowd for the tragic battle. They were dubbed "children's troops" by the crowd.

All the dead and wounded were civilians, except one soldier who was cuffed by the crowd.

MUST WAIT FOR OTHERS

Britain Cannot Further Reduce Arms Without World Action, Says Baldwin

LONDON, Nov. 9 (CP).—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council and Leader of the Conservatives in the House of Commons, tonight told guests at the Lord Mayor's banquet that Great Britain could make no further step toward disarmament without similar moves on the part of other nations.

Mr. Baldwin, speaking in place of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who was absent on doctor's orders, declared "the time has come to an end when Britain can proceed with unilateral disarmament."

READY TO JOIN OTHERS

He added, however, that the United Kingdom was ready at any time to join other nations in plans which might reduce armaments and bring assurance of world peace.

The Conservative Leader pleaded for settlement of the war debt problem. "It is essential to the world that ratification of the Lausanne settlements on reparations should now become possible and the work begun there should be completed," he said.

He added he wished the success which had attended Lausanne had been reflected in the World Disarmament Conference, but reminded his hearers that in accordance with the terms of the "gentlemen's" agreement fulfillment of the accords reached at Lausanne depends on a more lenient debt settlement between creditor and debtor nations.

STANDS BY LEAGUE

He reiterated that Great Britain was resolved to stand by her obligations undertaken under the covenant of the League of Nations and would continue to co-operate with the League in every respect.

From disarmament and war debts, Mr. Baldwin turned to affairs within the Empire and to prospects of increased prosperity in Empire countries as a result of the Ottawa Economic Conference.

Of that conference he said, "Patience, forbearance, sympathy and a sense of one another's requirements, we believe, laid the foundations leading to increased trade between us by lowering economic barriers."

TO REWRITE SENATE BILL

Transportation Bill Before Committee—Several Provisions May Be Changed

OTTAWA, Nov. 9 (CP).—The bill to implement the report of the Transportation Commission now before the Senate railway committee will have to be rewritten. It sets forth what is desired, but there are holes in almost every clause that will have to be stuffed up. This seemed to be the unanimous agreement of the lawyers on the committee studying it this afternoon.

In the meantime, such outstanding principles as are contained in the present bill will be studied. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen said no doubt the proposal to limit the Canadian National trustees to three would have a diversified reaction. It made it impossible to have sectional representation on the board as in the past.

EXPECT REPRESENTATIONS

The provision which gives a tribunal authority to force the railways to co-operate, particularly in the case of the Canadian Pacific, a private company, will doubtless bring forth some representations on its behalf, Mr. Meighen explained.

Rt. Hon. George P. Graham, chairman of the committee, read a telegram from E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., stating he could not appear before the committee but would be here any day next week the committee suggested.

One provision of the bill that will have to be changed is in regard to the chairman of an arbitral tribunal. It specified that the chairman of the Railway Commission should be the chairman of the tribunal, but makes no provision for anyone else to act should he not be able so to do.

New York Swept By Severe Storm

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP).—A northeaster that reached a maximum velocity of ninety-three miles an hour at the Empire State tower observatory howled across Manhattan tonight, blowing down trees and awnings and causing the highest tide in a decade.

Ferry employees estimated the tide was seven feet above normal, rising almost to the top of some piers.

NINETY PER CENT OF LOAN TAKEN

City of Ottawa Joins List of Subscribers—Issue Is $8,000,000 From Objective

MONTREAL, Nov. 9 (CP).—The City of Ottawa today became the first municipality to subscribe for a portion of the 1932 Dominion of Canada Loan. The managing committee announced that Ottawa had taken $150,000 worth of the twenty-year bonds.

Other large subscriptions during the day were those of $200,000 from Acadia Sugar Refining Company, $25,000 from Societe des Artisans Canadiens Francais, a mutual insurance company; $20,000 from La Presse Publishing Company, $100,000 from Dominion Stores and $50,000 from Supertest Petroleum Corporation.

The loan is said to an amount of over $72,000,000, which represents over 90 per cent of the total of $80,000,000 offered on October 31.

Canada-U.K. Trade Pact Passes Second Reading

OTTAWA, Nov. 9 (CP).—Enlisting one Liberal and six Progressives, Conservatives rolled up a majority of 35 when the House of Commons gave second reading today to the bill implementing the Anglo-Canadian Trade Treaty. The vote was 92 to 57.

For the rest of the day in committee stage the House locked horns over various interpretations of the agreement. It took four hours to pass the first article in the treaty—insuring Canada free entry into the British market of a wide range of articles.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, joined issue with Hon. J. L. Ralston (Lib., Yarmouth-Shelburne) and Hon. Ian Mackenzie (Lib., Vancouver Centre).

To opposition contentions, Article 1 did no more than guarantee free entry of Canadian goods into the United Kingdom. Mr. Stevens took the ground that it went further. Through agreements between the United Kingdom and the other Dominions, Canada was guaranteed a preferential spread on the articles specified in these other treaties if these goods were not enumerated in the Canadian schedules, he contended. This arose from the United Kingdom's undertaking to guarantee to all the Dominions the preferences extended to any one of them.

Republican Veterans of House and Senate Fall As Poll Total Piles Up

Vice-President-Elect Must Develop Rare Speed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP).—Speaker John N. Garner, elevated both to the vice-presidency and to the House of Representatives from the Fifteenth Texas District, plans to resign his House seat next March 4 when he takes oath as vice-president. He has told friends he is going into training to try to be in two places at once on March 4.

As Speaker, he is to adjourn the House promptly at noon, March 4, and as Vice-President-elect he is supposed to take oath of office promptly at 12 o'clock.

"From gavel to gavel—the Speaker's to the Vice-President's," said Garner, "is about 750 feet. And I guess I'm expected to make it in nothing flat."

Fee May Be Set for High School Pupils After Fourth Term

City School Board Decides On Sixty-Dollar Fee for Backward Students—Approximately 150 Affected—Action Awaits Approval

APPROXIMATELY 150 Victoria High School students will have to pay $60 each for tuition after the Christmas recess if action taken at last night's meeting of the city School Board is approved by the Council of Public Instruction.

Trustee W. C. Moresby brought in a recommendation that only four years' tuition be given free in the High School. Any additional instruction would be given only after the student has paid $60.

Ill-health would be taken into consideration inasmuch as the fee is merely to prevent "slackers" from obtaining free education at the cost of the taxpayers.

TO HAVE OPPORTUNITY

If a student fails in one term he will have an opportunity to catch up, but if he fails to do this then he will have to pay the fee to complete the four-year course now in vogue.

This measure is largely due to the extension of the high school curriculum, which, it is claimed, will make high school education more expensive.

GEORGE JAY IS IN FIELD AGAIN

Trustee Thirty-One Years—W. C. Moresby, K.C., Seeks Re-election

Having served the city for thirty-one years as a school trustee, Magistrate George Jay announced yesterday he would seek re-election to the school board for another two-year term.

Coupled with this announcement was that of Trustee W. C. Moresby, K.C., who has served on the school board for six years.

Magistrate Jay was first elected to the school board in January, 1901, and served continuously until 1920, when he intended to retire from public life. When the election for 1921 drew around, however, many citizens urged him to return to the school board, feeling that his experience in the past as a trustee and magistrate was invaluable to the city.

This year Magistrate Jay met with the same insistent demand and, although latterly he has been in ill health, he has decided to accept the invitation of the many citizens who have asked him to continue with his work.

Trustee Moresby was elected to the school board in 1926 and, after serving for two years, was appointed chairman of the building and grounds committee, a post he has held ever since.

With the announcement of Magistrate Jay and Trustee Moresby, all retiring members of the board are now seeking re-election. Trustee P. E. George already has announced his candidature. Another candidate in the field is John Wood.

VANCOUVER POLICE SEARCH CHINATOWN FOR HIRED KILLERS

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9 (CP).—In their investigation of factional trouble which has developed among Chinese in Vancouver, police are checking up on reports that each side has imported "gunmen."

This afternoon Detectives J. Fletcher and A. Rae searched the Chinese quarter for firearms and arrested Wong Tong and charged him with being an alien in unlawful possession of weapons. It was alleged that he was in possession of a rifle and automatic pist

EMPIRE DEFENCE SHARE DISCUSSED

Australian Minister Says Other Dominions May Contribute More After Negotiations

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 9 (CP).—A further angle to the armament question, directly concerning the British Empire, was revealed in the Commonwealth Senate today by Sir George Pearce, Minister of Defence in the Australian Government.

The minister disclosed that negotiations were being conducted with a view to the revision of Australia's share in the defence of the Empire. The negotiations involved a lessening of Australia's share and an increase in those of other Dominions.

"Britain has borne more than her share in the scheme," said Sir George. "Australia comes second and other Dominions, with a greater seaborne trade, have contributed little."

A larger contribution from the other Dominions was a logical result of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, he contended.

"The Empire must view the question in a new light, for if the Disarmament Conference failed the Empire would be unable to continue its postwar disarming tendencies," said the Minister of Defence.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP BOARDS IN ALASKA

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Democratic landslide reached into the Northland with Anthony Dimond holding an apparently unbeatable lead for delegate to Congress over James Wickersham, Republican incumbent, and the party practically assured majorities in both territorial House and Senate.

Democrats Capture Congress by Substantial Majorities

HOOVER HOLDS ONLY HALF DOZEN STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP).—The election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt as United States President promises to be the greatest electoral majority in the history of the country. Democratic supremacy in the next House of representatives passed the three-to-one mark tonight as completion of vote-counting neared.

Meantime, the party figures in the Senate approached the border of a two-to-one margin.

Some seventy House seats remained to be heard from, however. It looked as though the Democratic majorities would be increased instead of diminished, but there was nothing conclusive as to the final line-up.

VETERANS DEFEATED

From Connecticut to the State of Washington, the mighty rush of Democratic ballots that bore the New York governor to the Presidency over Herbert Hoover, took heavy and hourly growing toll of "G.O.P." legislators, some of them veterans of many years at the capitol.

Outstanding among the latest Republican old guard victims were the veteran Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Washington, and Senator Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada. Their victorious Democratic adversaries were Homer T. Bone and Patrick A. McCarran.

TWO CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

Neighbor Rescues Mother From Blazing Home—Both Receive Serious Burns

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 9 (CP).—Two children are dead tonight and a man and a woman are recovering from serious burns received when an overheated stove caused destruction by fire of a small dwelling at Coutts, international border point south of here.

Mrs. Rice, mother of the two dead children, Fay, aged five, and Ray, aged seven, was carried from the burning building by George Sweetman, a neighbor who saw the flames destroying the Rice house while the husband was absent at work. Both Mrs. Rice and Sweetman suffered severe burns while Mrs. Rice is also suffering from shock.

Sweetman raced into the burning building and carried the woman to safety through a window but the two children had succumbed to smoke and flames.

The blaze broke out shortly after Mrs. Rice lighted a fire in the kitchen stove and then retired again to bed.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL IS HELD

Arrest Follows Disturbance at Calgary Political Meeting—Ninth in Recent Drive

CALGARY, Nov. 9 (CP).—Murdoch Slarke, candidate of the United Front party for city council in the forthcoming civic elections here, was arrested tonight by city police on a warrant charging disorderly conduct as a result of a disturbance at a political meeting Sunday evening.

Arrest of Clarke was the ninth to be effected since city police started investigations into unemployed and Communist disturbances.

Clarke was taken into custody during a civic political meeting tonight, at which he was one of the speakers.

The warrant charging disorderly conduct resulted from 200 persons of the 400 audience getting up and walking out from the Sunday night meeting when Clarke was denied the privilege of speaking.

MANY CASUALTIES IN STORM THAT LASHES WEST INDIES

Ten Killed and Two Hundred Injured in Cuba—Half Banana Crop Destroyed in Jamaica—Hurricane Still Raging to Northward—Details of Catastrophe Are Meagre

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 9.—Terrific havoc was caused by a storm that lashed the West Indies last night, killing ten and injuring 200 persons in Cuba and causing millions of dollars of damage on this island. Half the Jamaican banana crop has been ruined by the storm, which reached a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour at Point Negril, the western extremity of the island.

While the damage to the banana plantations alone has been estimated at $3,000,000, further damage is believed to have been effected elsewhere on the island. No lives were lost, but late tonight the storm was still raging.

MANY CASUALTIES

HAVANA, Nov. 9 (AP).—The erratic tropical storm which has kept the West Indies in apprehension for the last week struck the three eastern provinces of Cuba today, killing ten persons, injuring more than two hundred and causing great property damage.

The Department of Sanitation in Havana was informed the need for medical supplies in Camajuani, a city of 23,000 in Santa Clara Province, was imperative. Supplies and physicians were sent from Cienfuegos and antitetanus serum was rushed from Havana.

RESCUE TRAIN

A special rescue train was organized to leave Havana for Camaguey, in Camaguey Province, as soon as possible.

Available reports indicated Camaguey Province suffered most. Although there was considerable damage in Oriente and Santa Clara. The Belen Observatory, in Havana, learned that in the town of Neuvitas, in Camaguey, the wind reached a speed of 130 miles an hour.

In mid-afternoon the storm was moving to the northeast and observers said the disturbance might strike the Bahamas some time tonight.

Time Is Kind To B.C. Tree As Ages Pass

NOT long after King Alfred of England handed on the reins of government to his successor, Eldred, in 896 A.D., chance planted a fir seed in a certain ravine in British Columbia. Tall and stately grew the fir among its fellows for 600 years, before it toppled and fell. From its boll arose a cedar, a brisk young giant some 400 years old or so when woodsmen came on it recently. In the office of Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Lands, there now reposes a section of the fir, more than 1,000 years old, and still comparatively sound, and even it is a baby compared to some firs recovered elsewhere by the slow recession of glaciers in the endless march of time.

DENOUNCES SOCIALISM

Premier Bennett Warns Against Injurious Work of Communists

TORONTO, Nov. 9 (CP).—In a ringing and vigorous speech which brought applause from every corner of the convention hall, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett roundly denounced Socialism and Communism today in addressing the eleventh annual convention of the Ontario Conservative Association.

"What do these so-called groups of Socialists and Communists offer you?" the Prime Minister asked. "Some are commending to you the history of Russia. If any of you have read the small volume of the Duchess of Athol, I do not think you will give it much support.

SOWING SEEDS EVERYWHERE

"They are sowing their seeds everywhere. Right in this city of Toronto propaganda is being carried on, and in the little out-of-the-way places the same injurious work is being done. We know that throughout Canada this propaganda is being put forward by organizations from foreign lands that seek to destroy our institutions. We ask every true Canadian to put the iron heel of ruthlessness against a thing of that kind.

"Do you want to lose that liberty," he continued, "which for three centuries you have struggled to gain? These are what Conservative governments protect."

CAPITALIZING UNREST

Today, the Liberal Party was no longer a party because it was being led by the Co-operative Commonwealth Movement, Mr. Bennett observed. This movement sought to capitalize the unrest of the people.

"The new doctrine," the Prime Minister went on, "is to share all things in common. How many people had heard of a soap box orator still preaching the gospel of sharing things in common after he owned a home?"

Canada was coming more successfully through the world crisis than any nation in the world, the Prime Minister declared, amid applause. "I am proud of that," he continued. "It is a tribute to the courage and patience and steadfastness of the people of this Dominion."

Applies for Licence to Sell Beer

SEATTLE, Nov. 9 (AP).—Jack J. Lawson, King County food inspector, made out an application today for a licence to operate a beer parlor.

After mailing it to the licence committee of the city council, he said that it seemed to him the repeal by popular vote of the State bone-dry law meant "business was in sight."

He wanted to be first in line with an application for a licence, he said.

During the day, also, Councilman James A. Scavotto said he would initiate a move to repeal the city's liquor ordinances.

KIDNAPPED SON OF CHICAGO OFFICIAL IS SOON LIBERATED

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP). — The thirteen-year-old son of John J. Touhy, re-elected yesterday as a trustee of the Chicago sanitary district, was kidnapped tonight along with his father's chauffeur, by three men. Both were released about an hour later in an outlying district of the city.

Their release came as Mayor Anton Cermak personally instructed a city-wide search for the kidnappers.

MONETARY EXPERTS ADJOURN

GENEVA, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Commission of Monetary Experts preparing for the World Economic Conference, adjourned today. Its members will report to their governments and probably return for another session in January.

Officials of Bank Frustrate Holdup; Suspect Identified

Vancouver Bandit Fires One Shot and Flees When Manager Reaches for Gun—Teller Shoots After Robber's Car

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9 (CP). — John Dusenberg, alias Ausenberg, will face trial on charges of robbery with violence with intent to wound as the result of an attempted holdup of a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Sixteenth Avenue and Oak Street at noon today. He was arrested a short time after a bandit was driven from the bank office after an exchange of shots with bank employees.

In a line-up at the jail this afternoon Dusenberg was picked out by G. E. Devereaux, manager, and A. G. Tullock, teller, plucky bank officials who prevented the bandit's attempt at robbery.

Quick thinking and prompt action by Devereaux foiled the holdup attempt. Shortly before noon a man entered the bank carrying a satchel. Going to Devereaux's desk the man pointed a gun at the manager. Devereaux immediately dropped behind the counter and reached for his gun. The bandit fired one shot and fled in a car which was recovered by police twenty minutes later.

Tullock grabbed his gun and with Devereaux ran to the door, Tullock fired three shots without effect after the bandit car.

Dusenberg, according to the police, was traced by Detectives R. Knox, W. Fisk, W. H. Milne and A. Stewart through a car used in the would-be robber's escape.

Mr. Devereaux and Mr. Tullock had obtained its number and it was traced to H. Wright, West Seventeenth Avenue, who stated that he had loaned it for a short time to a man, who was slightly known to him.

Acting on information received from Mr. Wright the officers went to Dusenberg's home on West Twenty-First Avenue, and found the man hurriedly packing his belongings. A search of the house led to the discovery of a revolver, recently discharged, in the basement.

B.C. OIL TAX IN FOR TEST

Harold B. Robertson to Act for Province in Appeal Hearing

Attorney-General Pooley intimated yesterday that the Government was preparing to defend the British Columbia fuel oil tax in the courts, and would be ready to pursue the matter to the Privy Council, if finally necessary to settle the issue. Harold B. Robertson, K.C., has been named as counsel for the Province, in a stated case, which it is hoped to have heard during the present term of the Court of Appeal, at Vancouver.

Large industrial users of fuel oil in the province have protested the levying of the tax, which was imposed this year at the rate of half a cent a gallon. Estimated revenue from the tax in the 1932-33 estimates was $385,000, but for the first quarter the new tax was not actually applied. Now the Government has agreed to submit the issue to the courts by way of case stated, to test the constitutionality of the legislation.

ISSUE LONG STANDING

Some years ago a similar levy was imposed under legislation which was was later held to be indirect taxation, and subsequently upset in the courts.

The present law changed the application of the levy and made it a direct charge on the fuel oil users, with certain exemptions. The first law was fought, and finally reached the Privy Council. The new law was designed to overcome defects in the first.

It is unofficially believed that the test case will be taken to the highest court before either side will rest with a verdict.

MAY WITHHOLD DEBT INSTALLMENT

LONDON, Nov. 10 (AP).—The Daily Mail said today that an important communication to the United States Government would probably be sent shortly wherein Great Britain's willingness to pay her war debt installment due December 15 would be restated, but the difficulty surrounding the matter would be pointed out.

The newspaper's story was one of several which envisaged a possible suspension of Britain's debt installment as a result of the American Presidential election. So far officials have refused to comment.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (CP).—Having passed through the House of Commons, where it received considerable buffeting, the Government bill ratifying the Imperial Conference agreements, was again made the object of emphatic attacks when it came up for second reading today in the House of Lords.

COMMITTEE HAS MADE RETURNS

Both Panels of Teachers' Salary Group Have Reported to Province

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe stated yesterday he was in receipt of reports from the public and teachers' panels on the provincial teachers' salary committee, and would take up the recommendations made with the Council of Public Instruction early next week.

The reports were presented separately, and run to considerable length. Their contents will not be divulged until they have been perused by the Government.

Mr. Hinchliffe left last evening for Vancouver to attend a meeting of the Lower Fraser Valley Teachers' Association, meeting in convention at Cloverdale today. He will return at the week-end.

REPUBLICAN VETERANS OF HOUSE AND SENATE FALL AS TOTAL PILES UP

Other familiar figures who fell before the Democratic hurricane were Reed Smoot, of Utah, dean of the Senate where he has served for thirty years; George H. Moses for New Hampshire, President pro tem.; James E. Watson, of Indiana, Republican leader, and Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, administration stalwart.

FIVE SURVIVORS

Five of the Republican senators up for re-election came through successfully: Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, a member of the Independent wing; Peter Norbeck, of South Dakota; James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania; Frederick Steiwer, of Oregon, and Porter Dale, of Vermont.

Other Democrats elected were Patrick A. McCarran, of Nevada; Senator George McGill, Kansas; Alva B. Adams, Colorado; Senator Hugo L. Black, Alabama; Perry Stewart, New Jersey; Fred H. Brown, New Hampshire; F. G. Fuddy, Wisconsin; Louis R. Murphy, Iowa; Dr. Elbert D. Thomas, Utah; William G. McAdoo, California; Senator Carl Hayden, Arizona; Senator Robert J. Bulkley, Ohio; Bennett C. Clark, Missouri; Senator Millard E. Tydings, Maryland; Augustine Lonergan, Connecticut; William H. Dieterich, Illinois; Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma; Robert R. Reynolds, North Carolina; Frederick Van Nuys, Indiana; Senator Robert F. Wagner, New York; Senator Hattie W. Caraway, Arkansas; Senator Walter F. George, Georgia; Senator Ellison D. Smith, South Carolina; Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Florida; Richard B. Russell, Jr., Georgia, and John H. Overton, Louisiana.

LIST GROWING

In addition the Democrats were leading in contests between James P. Pope, Democrat, and Senator John Thomas, of Idaho, and Senator Barkley, of Kentucky and his Republican opponent, Maurice H. Thatcher.

Senator Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, in a statement tonight, said it appeared the Democrats, after March 4, would have sixty senators, the Republicans, thirty-five, and farmer labor, one.

Late returns today showed the Democrats continuing in the Far West the sweep, which marked their course in the East and Mid-West.

The congressional representation of Idaho, Utah and Nevada changed outright from Republican to Democratic in a series of overturns which also saw the loss of Republican seats in Washington, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Missouri and a number of other states. All West Virginia Democratic House candidates were elected, with four overturns.

Among the House figures who went down to defeat were Representatives Will R. Wood, of Indiana; Earl Michener, of Michigan, assistant Republican floor leader; Fred Purnell, of Indiana, ranking Republican on the rules and agriculture committees, who was beaten by a woman, Mrs. Virginia Jenckes, and Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt. Representative Bachmann, Republican whip, appeared to have met the same fate.

The line-up for the short session of the present Congress, which expires March 4, was in doubt, with the Democrats holdings forty-eight seats, the Republicans, forty-six, and leading in one.

TO MAKE STUDY OF DISTRIBUTION

Retail Merchants' Association of Canada to Assist in Nation-Wide Survey

TORONTO, Nov. 9 (CP). — The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada announced tonight it would co-operate with the commerce department of Queen's University, Kingston, in plans for an exhaustive study to formulate definite information regarding domestic distribution of Canadian products.

The survey will be under the joint direction of the Queen's faculty of commerce, and the business management bureau of the Retail Merchants' Association.

The information obtained in the survey will be used as a nucleus for the formation of a permanent economic laboratory to work out practical business problems in Canada, the announcement said.

Plans to Renounce Treaty of Peace

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Nov. 9 (AP).—President Jiminez announced today Costa Rica will renounce the Central American Treaty of Peace and Friendship signed in Washington in 1923 "because the Government considers the treaty fruitless and productive of embarrassing situations."

VON GRONAU NEARS END OF LONG FLIGHT

ALTHENRHEIN, Switzerland, Nov. 9 (AP).—His world flight almost completed, Wolfgang von Gronau alighted this afternoon on Lake Constance in front of the Fornier aero yards and was welcomed by Claude Dornier and his wife.

Starting from the Island of Syit, Germany, July 5, von Gronau covered almost 40,000 miles in approximately 300 flying hours.

FREIGHTER AGROUND IN WATERWAY AT TACOMA

TACOMA, Nov. 9 (AP).—While being manoeuvred in Wapato waterway here this afternoon, the freighter Dorothy Wintermote went aground and was still fast in the mud at a late hour tonight. Three tugs were unable to free the craft. She was listing slightly, but was not believed to have been damaged.

The steamer belongs to the Paramino Lumber Company of San Francisco. Another effort will be made to move the ship early tomorrow morning.

NEW POLICIES FOR REPUBLIC

Tariffs and St. Lawrence Waterways May Be Affected

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (CP).—The question of what the Democrats, now that they sit on top of the United States political pile as a result of yesterday's national elections, will do about tariffs and the St. Lawrence waterways remained a question today as President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt slept late and his cohorts rested.

The Democratic platform on tariffs is plain enough. It refers to the disastrous policy of "economic isolation," condemns the Hawley-Smoot Tariff Act and further says:

NO INTERFERENCE

"We advocate a competitive tariff for revenue with a fact-finding tariff commission free from executive interference, reciprocal tariff arrangements with other nations and an international economic conference designed to restore international trade and facilitate exchange."

The conciliatory quality of this pronouncement is somewhat mitigated by Mr. Roosevelt's assertion to the Midwest that a cut in agricultural tariffs would be "absurd," and the knowledge that most of the Democrats in the House and Senate voted for the high rates in the Hawley-Smoot bill when they affected their own constituents.

ATTITUDE DOUBTFUL

As to the St. Lawrence, the Democratic platform contains no statement. As Governor of New York, Mr. Roosevelt set up the New York power authority which is jealous of letting any power, developed in the international section, get out of Governmental hands. The New York power authority had some trouble with Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and the State Department during the Canadian-American negotiations for a treaty. Add to this that Alfred E. Smith, who will probably hold some high office in the Roosevelt Cabinet, has expressed his opposition to the seaway project and there might appear to be some shoals in the offing.

However, until the President-Elect expresses himself, the matter remains in status quo, with Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, about to investigate the treaty, beginning tomorrow.

Volstead Is Still Dry He States

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 9 (AP).—Andrew J. Volstead today said he was still convinced prohibition is the thing for the United States. Asked to comment on gains made by the West in yesterday's election, he replied: "I have seen too many elections to have national sentiment mean anything to me. I am still for prohibition." He refused to amplify.

Volstead, co-author of the dry act bearing his name, is legal adviser to the district prohibition agent here.

The same characteristics as made the Lausanne Conference a success made the Ottawa Conference a success, he said, adding the same spirit would animate the World Economic Conference to be held in London.

Mr. Baldwin, turning to business conditions in the United Kingdom described the Government's recent loan conversion operations as an achievement beyond the dreams of twelve months ago.

SAYS TRADE IMPROVING

Trade, he said, was undeniably better than it was a year ago. He reminded the guests that while adopting the tariff weapons gave the Government power to improve trade, the weapon was still on trial.

He declared the Government had at all times made it clear that while it was prepared to help industry, industry must improve its own efficiency and increase its competitive powers.

"We have passed through a most difficult year," he concluded. "Signs of better things are not yet clear, although they may be discerned on the horizon. I have every faith we shall prove we possess the power and courage to stick it through."

GRAIN MOVEMENT TO COAST NEEDS LARGER ELEVATOR CAPACITY

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9 (CP).—By December 15, Vancouver's grain elevator capacity will be approximately 1,600,000 bushels greater than at present, this being the only port in the world today where additional elevator construction is being installed.

Three additions to grain elevators are nearing completion, two of which are expected to be finished by December 1. Thus, Vancouver's present capacity of 16,205,000 bushels will be increased to 17,830,000 bushels.

The additions to Vancouver grain elevators under construction at the present time are to the Pacific terminal, which is being increased from 1,250,000 bushels to 1,725,000 bushels; United Grain Growers from 1,650,000 to 2,650,000 bushels, and the Columbia, which is increasing its capacity from 160,000 to 260,000 bushels.

Gives Short Talk On Armistice Day

"National pride is natural and proper, but loyalty to one's own country can go hand in hand with respect of other nations," quoted Arthur T. Hunkin in the five-minute talk on the celebration of Armistice Day which he gave in connection with the regular meeting of the Round Table Club on Tuesday evening. The occasion was one for remembering the sacrifice of those who gave their all for country, also, it was an occasion for remembering those who came back maimed and broken, and for remembering the widows and orphans, not by glorifying war but by advancing the sentiment of peace and determining not to become the puppets of those so keen on war that they were blind to the higher vision. Never before in history had a day of remembrance been set aside for other than national rejoicing or national mourning, whereas this remembrance day was celebrated in a spirit of hope.

Stocks Weaker and U.S. Dollar Higher Following Election

Action of Stock Market Breaks Precedent of Thirty Years' Standing—Industrial Leaders' Optimism for Future

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP).—Pronounced strength of the United States dollar in foreign exchange dealings, and a decline in the stock market, were conflicting developments in the postelection financial markets in Wall Street today.

The dollar, which had been advancing in terms of European gold currencies recently, moved ahead in decided manner but the stock market, after a moderate rally in the first few minutes, fell down rather abruptly, then drifted apathetically with trading in small volume. Among principal shares, there were many net losses of $1 to more than $3.

Strength of the dollar, according to international banking circles, indicated clearly that Europe was well satisfied that a change in the United States Government would not impair the soundness of that currency. Both parties, of course, had declared themselves for sound money and balanced budgets.

The Democratic landslide was naturally greeted with mixed sentiments in Wall Street, according to political tastes, but it brought a number of optimistic or hopeful comments from leaders in finance and industry.

Action of the share market, however, in closing lower on the Wednesday after a national election, broke a precedent of more than thirty years' standing. The day after the past several national elections had seen a rise of varying extent, regardless of the victor. It was pointed out, nevertheless, that this time the market had experienced a rather sweeping upturn in the three sessions prior to election, at a time when a Democratic victory was widely predicted in the financial district.

Prominent among industrial leaders who offered comment was Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corporation, who spoke of possible business hesitancy resulting from a change in administration and the importance of early announcement of the new policies, then added, "on the other hand, the strong mandate given the new administration is certain to establish great confidence."

William H. Wooden, a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, said "in my judgment, the forces making for business recovery will move steadily ahead at an accelerated pace under Mr. Roosevelt's guidance."

NEW IRRIGATION LOAN IS PASSED

Letters Patent for Trout Creek, and $3,000 for Glenmore, in South Okanagan

Two irrigation districts in South Okanagan were the subject of provincial orders yesterday, when a loan of $3,000 from the Conservation Fund was authorized for Glenmore irrigation district; and letters patent issued to a new improvement area, the Trout Creek irrigation district, nominally in the Osoyoos division of Yale.

C. P. Nelson, of Summerland, was named a returning officer in connection with the election of three trustees for the Trout Creek irrigation district.

No action will be taken by the Government this year in connection with the request of Westbank irrigation district, that the province assist it in refunding its existing bond issue, privately held, to reduce interest rates, though leave to renew the application next year is understood to have been given.

MAY APPEAL IN GAME ACT CASE

Owner of Farm Claims Verbal Notification of Taking Deer Is Good Defence

Whether verbal notification to a game warden of the killing of a deer passing through a farmer's property is sufficient to constitute a defence of the action alleged—that of taking a deer without a licence—is a matter that Judge Peter S. Lampman, County Court judge, may have to finally determine.

In the provincial police court yesterday afternoon Stipendiary Magistrate George Jay fined A. Kohout, of Sooke, $25 for taking a deer without a licence. R. S. Yates gave notice of his intention to appeal from the decision.

According to the evidence, Mr. Kohout shot a deer on his property on September 30. On October 1 he verbally informed a game warden of his act. On October 18 he confirmed his verbal notification in a letter to the game commissioner. The magistrate said he did not think that the letter of October 18 was in compliance with the section of the act, which states that written notification of the taking of a deer must be made to the department "forthwith."

Magistrate Jay fixed the security for costs of an appeal at $25.

SUES OFFICER FOR $25,000

Damages Sought for Death of Youth Shot by Policeman

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9.—Claiming $25,000 damages for the death of his nineteen-year-old son, Saul Merin, Lazare Merin, merchant, East Georgia, is a plaintiff in Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Fiser against D. G. W. Ross, Vancouver police constable, Waverley Avenue.

Shot in the back on March 26 last in a lane, south of Keefer and west of Main, the youth died the following day in General Hospital.

The action is for the benefit of plaintiff and the deceased's mother, Mrs. Rosa Merin.

Three young convicts were brought from Oakalla jail to testify for the plaintiff. They were Melville Johnson, Albert Betty and Clarence Wadella.

NOTORIOUS GANG

A "notorious East End gang," was referred to by George E. McCrossan, K.C., defence counsel with A. E. Lord, during cross-examination of Johnson, aged eighteen. Counsel suggested that Saul Merin was leader of the gang. Witness, however, would not agree, although he stated that he knew the gang and that many are now serving prison terms, including Betty, Peter Melnyck, Stanley Kick, William McLaren and Chuck Brown.

Johnson's story was, Merin, Betty and himself hired an automobile at 2 o'clock in the morning. Merin paid a $12 deposit of which he contributed $6, Johnson $1, and Betty, the balance. After driving around the city, including Stanley Park and Hastings Park, they returned the car at 5 o'clock. They left by the lane, where Constable Ross pursued them. Johnson said he recognized Ross as a police officer, although he was not wearing uniform. He kept on running when Ross fired at them, he said. He noticed several bullets hit the ground near his feet.

A. F. Fleishman and C. F. McLean are counsel for plaintiff.

PRIORITY CLAIM CAUSE OF APPEAL

Judgment for Assessments by Compensation Board Subject of Court Dispute

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9.—Judgment was reserved today by Court of Appeal on an appeal involving a question whether a seizure, under execution by Workmen's Compensation Board in an endeavor to collect assessments, takes priority over a mortgage.

The board appealed from Judge Howay's judgment, in County Court at New Westminster, who found in favor of the mortgagees, William J. Blake Wilson and Patrick Burns. They held a $5,000 mortgage on machinery and an oil derrick of Sumas Oil & Gas Co., Ltd., which the board caused to be seized under writ of execution in payment of $97 assessment dues.

It is the first case in which the board's priority rights have been put squarely before the Court of Appeal. C. W. Craig, K.C., was counsel for appellant, Workmen's Compensation Board; and H. D. Robertson, K.C., for respondents.

GOLD AND STERLING

The campaign of anti-British interests in some countries in the attempt to prove that sterling has failed is receiving some sustenance from pseudo-economists in Britain herself and in some of her Dominions. They quote the recent fall in the pound value as an instance of failure of sterling to secure its objective in stabilization. The truth is that the fall, and the conditions which brought it about, indicates no weakening in the process of stabilization. As monetary conditions are, and until there is an international monetary conference to decide on an international policy, it may be expected that, with some countries on a gold standard and others with that standard suspended, there will be a lack of co-operation.

Following the suspension of the gold standard in Britain there were considerable fluctuations in sterling value. Then, however, sterling became more or less stabilized, this result having been achieved with the object of fixing a stable level for world commodity prices. The object in view was to facilitate world trade. Such a process will take years to accomplish, and during those years, unless there is international action, there must be fluctuations in exchange values due to political and economic conditions in countries operating under different monetary standards. The fact is that an international monetary conference is to be held before Christmas, according to an announcement made by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald. The British policy at that gathering will be directed towards achieving a stabilization of world prices. Her monetary policy will be the eventual restoration of a gold standard somewhat below parity for the pound.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has said that the ultimate objective of the United Kingdom is the re-establishment of sterling upon a gold basis. That, too, is the objective of the Bank of International Settlements. The gold parity of the pound will be less than $4.86, to which the world has been so long accustomed. The enemies of Britain want to do away with sterling as a standard of value, for they want to destroy Britain's financial power, just as they have been working, through disarmament conferences, to injure her ability to afford security to the Empire. It is because of the world's negligence in assisting in promoting co-operative action to restore the normal flow of trade that Britain, to some extent at least, has, for the time being, allowed sterling to find its own level as against other currencies. She has, however, taken precautions to prevent tendencies of a too disruptive character.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics recently showed that the British purchasing power today is approximately the same per pound sterling, within the United Kingdom, as it was before the suspension of the gold standard. That is the fact which enables Britain to pursue her own business with a certain amount of equanimity while awaiting such time as the world is ready and forced to arrive at a measure of co-operation where monetary matters are concerned. There is sufficient indication of the fact that gold will remain as the basis of values in the attitude of the United States which is insisting on the gold value for its currencies. That value was established by the British Parliament in 1816 when the gold content of the sovereign was allocated by law. The definition gave commodity price values a world standard. The situation, therefore, is that the United States is insisting on past gold values when the press of circumstances has made a revaluation of sterling necessary. It was upon sterling that the old gold value was based.

DEVOLUTION OF SCOTLAND

With the espousal by Sir Herbert Samuel and his Liberal following of the policy of home rule for Scotland, this question again emerges into the limelight of political issues in the Old Country. There is no national enthusiasm in Scotland for the movement. There is, in fact, apathy, but there are Direct Actionists who have taken the scheme under their wing and are likely to energise it with life. In other words, the agitation is more potently organized than ever before. It now has the sanction of one of Great Britain's political parties, though a party which gives no evidence of increasing its power.

Mr. David R. Anderson, the managing editor of The Glasgow Herald, has been dealing with the subject. He sees the National Party with its object a design to break up the British State as created by the Act of Union of 1707, and separate Scotland from England, while insuring that the former country remains within the Empire. That party is finding it hard to give clear definitions of what it wants. There is a Moderate group favorable to devolution. That group would preserve for the British Parliament decision in such matters as Succession to the Crown, peace and war, defence forces and foreign affairs. Its argument is that a Parliament for Scotland would relieve congestion of business at Westminster and enable more concentration on Scottish affairs.

Since the war three main expressions affecting the home rule movement have been evident. One is towards a revival of old Scottish customs, symbols and festivals with greater national expression in music, painting and architecture. The second is industrial and economic, due to the drift southwards of industry, and the effect that it has had on many ancient Scottish firms. The third is a political movement which came into being with the formation four years ago of a National Party. This was organized when a realization came about that both Liberal and Labor Parties at Westminster had betrayed the cause of home rule for Scotland. The march of the movement towards home rule or some form of devolution for Scotland has not the support of British Conservatives who now constitute the main representation in the British Parliament.

THE VALUE OF LAUGHTER

While the charge of banality and vulgarity may fairly be made against much popular amusement, due acknowledgment should be accorded the dispenser of clean humor, such as the Scottish songster who last night once again entertained a Victoria audience. If man be, as has been defined, the animal who laughs, laughter is normal, and he who can in a legitimate way tickle the ribs is a benefactor of the race. A good laugh is recreative. Like sleep it "knits the raveled sleeve of care." If care "to our coffin adds a nail," laughter "draws one out." The masters of literature are good guides in this matter. Shakespeare has created a Falstaff as immortal as Hamlet, and Dickens did as much for his fellowmen in Pickwick Papers as in Bleak House. When the accolade fell upon the visitor of last night the King's action received the endorsement of the world. The very uame of Sir Harry Lauder registers the value of laughter.

The fact is that the jester touches something deep and elemental in human nature and because of this the great writers of tragedy turn naturally to comedy. The fountain of laughter lies near to the fountain of tears. As the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table said, "laughter and tears are meant to turn the wheels of the same sensibility." The benefit of humor is that the soul is purged by an authentic emotion and so attains a clearer vision. Just because laughter is a primary thing in life it is a crime against human nature to stir this motion unworthily and falsely. Especially should this be considered in the entertainment offered to children. What is to be aimed at is a seriousness without solemnity and a merriment devoid of silliness. The missionary who, when given the choice of a journal as a Christmas present, chose Punch, gave a better example than Bishop Leighton,, of whom his biographer wrote that "he had so subdued his natural heat as never to laugh, seldom to smile."

ULSTER'S POSITION

The tenor and direct effect of an interview with Lord Craigavon, Premier of Ulster, leaves no cause for doubt about the position of Northern Ireland respecting the efforts being made by Mr. de Valera to bring the entire country under the aegis of a Free State. Ulster is as strongly entrenched behind the ramparts of "No Surrender" as it ever was in the past. The interview in question appears in The Belfast News-Letter, and in the course of it the Premier says that he believed Ulster's attitude had already been made abundantly clear, so clear indeed that no one should have any misunderstanding on the subject. If doubt exists in any quarter it can be dissipated by the latest utterance of Lord Craigavon, who says:

"So far as Ulster is concerned let me state again as plainly as possible, without qualification or reservation, that in no circumstances whatever would we ever dream of going into any republic of any kind, or of joining with Southern Ireland, even without a republic." When the Premier was asked if there had been any communication from the Imperial Government touching the matter of Mr. de Valera's plan for an All-Ireland Republic, Lord Craigavon said: "None whatever, either verbal or written. We are completely out of the picture and our position cannot be affected. I am quite satisfied that the position for us remains unaltered and will remain unaltered. There is no question of any bargaining where Ulster is concerned."

HOME IN THE NORTH

I know a house beside the sea
Where rocks and gulls call down to me
Of other shores more wide and fair
Than those beneath the window there;
With bolder rocks and whiter sand,
And hills behind more green and grand.

I never listen, for I know
That wherebever I may go,
No other place could ever seem
More beautiful, no water's gleam
More bright with memory's magic foam,
Than those about my northern home,
That, nestling in its hills apart,
Gathers me ever to its heart.

—Elizabeth Fleming, in The Christian Science Monitor.

In the lexicon of youth, which fate reserves
For a bright manhood, there is no such word
As "Fail." —Lord Lytton.

WIFE OF STALIN DIES AT MOSCOW

Little Known, Though Husband Is Most Powerful Figure in Russia

MOSCOW, Nov. 9 (AP).—Nadya Alliluieva, wife of Joseph Stalin, most powerful figure in all Soviet Russia, but herself a retiring woman who lived plainly, died last night.

The Tass Agency, official Soviet news organization, announced her death but gave no details.

She was thirty years old. Only a few months ago she had completed a three-year course at the All-Union Industrial Academy which qualified her as an expert in the production of artificial silk and made her eligible to a high administrative-technical post in an important section of the Soviet textile industry.

In addition to Stalin, their two children—a boy of twelve and a girl of seven—survive her. There also is a stepchild, Stalin's son by a previous marriage, who is twenty-three.

The Rhyming Optimist

THE TEACHER

There's much to learn from laughter
We could not learn from sighs,
For mirth is kin to morning
And radiant, rosy skies.

The laughing lips are wisest;
They speak no bitter word,
But send their gladness winging
To heaven like a bird.

For joy can win us friendship
And love that will abide
Long after colder learning
From out our thoughts has died.

Oh, Laughter, merry teacher,
Do not forsake us long;
But bring our ways to brighten
Your younger brother, Song!

There's much to learn from laughter
That tears could never give,
For laughter lends us courage
A fuller life to live!

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 19.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Bonsbees drydock add 80 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Tudor was the family name of the dynasty which occupied the Throne of England from 1485 to 1603.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of November 10, 1882)

Tight Rope Walker—Leoni, King of the Air, walked the tight rope at the Park Hotel, yesterday, with great ease. The rope had a span of ninety feet and was stretched between two trees at a height of sixty feet. After his walking feat he performed upon the trapeze.

African Warfare—A dispatch from Durban states that two batteries of Transvaal Boers had an engagement with Nasoch, a Kaffir chief, the natives being victorious. Nasoch feigned a retreat and drew the Boers into an ambush, killing 300.

A Royal Chairman—The Prince of Wales has consented to act as chairman of the Longfellow memorial committee. In his letter accepting the chairmanship, he praises the American poets and expresses his admiration of the great bard.

Accident—William Newbury fell from a ladder in his shop on Wednesday, and fractured one of his arms. His condition is reported as being satisfactory.

INFLUENZA

Sir,—Referring to Mr. R. T. Williams' Old-Time Memories in Sunday's Colonist, he states a sick person could get a quart bottle of wine free for the asking from the Hudson's Bay Company. Have times improved? I know of quite a number of cases of influenza where a small quantity of whisky would work wonders, and it is probably one of the best cures known to the medical fraternity of today. But look at the obstacles placed in the way; not alone the outrageous price, but the imposition of the extra 50 cents for the permit.

W. J. DANDRIDGE.

1612 Fell Street, Victoria, B.C., November 7, 1932.

BANDITS AND AUTOS

Sir,—As a large percentage of successful roberies and holdups depend upon the use by bandits of stolen automobiles, it appears to the writer that the police, the public and auto owners would all benefit if our city authorities passed a by-law, the breach of which would entail a forfeiture of, say $1, plus a visit to the police station, causing considerable inconvenience and loss of time; the by-law to read roughly as follows: "It is unlawful for any driver of a motor car to leave the key in the lock of the car at any time when not in personal control of car."

Our police chiefs could easily find, among our unemployed, sufficient reliable men to patrol streets, taking out keys wherever found in unattended cars, attaching a label to car stating that key can be redeemed at police headquarters on production of licence and payment of $1. The number of the licence plate would be attached to key by the "prowler" as a means of identification. The dollars collected would, for a considerable time at least, more than pay the salaries of the men employed by the chief of police, and auto thefts would be made much less frequent.

RALPH DOPPING HEPENSTAL.

"Lenamore," Duncan, B.C., November 9, 1932.

AMPHION STREET PARK

Sir,—As reported in this morning's issue, the City Parks Committee has resolved that the reverted lots on Amphion Street set aside by the council for a park are not suitable for park purposes, but we are not told what it is that makes them unsuitable.

Anyone who knows that part of the city will agree with the council that a park is needed in that district. As a playground for small children, the proposed site seems to be very central for a quite thickly populated area.

There being at least five acres available, playgrounds for small children, sports grounds for larger children and also sports grounds for adults can be developed without one kind spoiling the place for the others.

Being between, and close to, two street car lines, and bordered by the Foul Bay Road, it is easily accessible from all parts of the city.

Being absolutely level and free from rock, it can be developed extremely cheaply. Unlike other areas in which the Parks Committee is making football fields and tennis courts, at Amphion Street no grading is needed and it will not be necessary to cut down a lot of fine trees.

What are the objections to the site that, in the view of the Parks Committee, outweigh the very obvious merits. P. R. LEIGHTON.

MONETARY THEORIES

Sir,—People who await the advent of prosperity by nailing their colors to the maintenance in Canada of that which they call a "gold standard" excite one's sense of humor, and remind me of the Cockney who visited Brighton for the first time. He got out at the station, and looking at the sea, was dumbfounded, as he had never seen it before. The tide was up, and thinking that the boatmen who were shouting to the visitors had a proprietary right to it, he went over to one of them and asked him if they sold the sea water by the bottle. "Oh, yes!" said the sailor, "as much as you like at threepence a quart." "Right," said the visitor, "I'll have four quarts. I'm going for a drive, but I'll be back in a couple of hours and fetch it." And off he went. When he returned the tide had gone out and he was so bewildered to see the dry sand that all he said was: "My word, you do do a trade here!"

If we wait long enough on Australia, New Zealand, India, Britain, Japan and other countries on a sterling basis to pull the pearly oysters out of the sea by constructive effort and courageous toil, this Dominion will wax wealthy, healthy and wise. Nevertheless, there are some simpletons who fail entirely to see wherein constructive effort and courageous toil is being applied in Canada to help forward the welfare of the Imperial or Canadian people.

Up to date, the Dominion Government has throttled the effect of any inter-Imperial trade arrangements made at Ottawa by taxing British and other imports on a basis of gold values. Further, the Canadian exporter can never benefit in exchanging his goods or services with Australia, New Zealand, India, Britain and sterling countries if the exchange value of his dollar is greater than the par of Australia, New Zealand, India, Britain and sterling countries. These elementary truisms are so well known that they admit of no dispute.

If the mentalities of our leaders are on a higher level of intelligence than that of the Cockney viewing the ocean at Brighton they will grasp the implications of the idea that gold is no longer a free circulating medium, and if they have the constructive ability of an ant they will immediately take steps to shelter themselves from the rain and help other ants in the Imperial ant heap.

To attract foreign gold, which is not circulating as a primary necessity in the exchange of goods and services, the thing to do is to lower the local gold standard and put a premium on such gold. To thaw out domestic gold or domestic gilt-edged securities, which are not circulating as a primary necessity in the exchange of goods and services, the thing to do is to lower the local gold standard.

To complain that critics of the gold standard basis of our currency propose no immediate practical measures for the carrying out of such a policy is to ignore the fact that any such practical measures, if they are to be successful, can only originate from the Department of Finance, Ottawa, Ontario. Verily, that Chinese observer was not far wrong when he described Western civilization as "motion without motive."

T. KERR RITCHIE, Captain.

MINERS ARE WORKING ON DUNWELL CLAIMS

The last copy of The Stewart News conveys the information that the Dunwell mining properties, in which company a large number in Victoria are interested, have been operating during the Summer. These have been worked by mining men on arrangements with the Dunwell Company and the records of three of these syndicates are referred to.

J. W. Stewart and another miner are shipping eight tons of ore carrying gold and silver values from the group upon which they have been engaged.

Two other groups of miners have been carrying on similar operations, and, according to The News, have had satisfactory results.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

PLANNING THE PLAY

Mr. Leslie Whitmer, of Sioux City, Iowa, sent me the hand below, which presents a problem of rather enthusiastic bidding—the bidding of three grand slams; one of them a defensive measure, and the final passing of the opportunity to defeat the contract by an opening lead, only to see the declarer fail to realize the possibilities of his cards, and instead of making his contract, be defeated two tricks for a penalty of 1,200 points. Certainly, the hand presents plenty of drama, the bidding being manifestly too strong, but the playing situation being very interesting.

UNIVERSAL TO PRODUCE TWO FILM SERIES

Henry McCrae, Production Manager, Coming Here to Direct Activities

LOCAL COMPANY IS FORWARDING PLANS

Kenneth Bishop, production manager of Commonwealth Productions, Ltd., on his return from Los Angeles yesterday, announced he had completed arrangements with Universal Pictures whereby that company would use the local studios and equipment for the production of two series of pictures.

Just how many pictures would be produced in the two series, Mr. Bishop was not prepared to state definitely, but he expressed the opinion that each series might be made up of six pictures each.

"Universal is just as anxious to produce films under the British quota as Paramount or any of the large companies, and, as the quota advances to 25 per cent in 1935, there should be an increase in the production of motion pictures here. It is generally admitted," he said, "that Victoria is the closest point of contact with the big industries in Los Angeles."

PRODUCER COMING

A Canadian, who has been with Universal for fourteen years and at present is production manager for Universal shorts and Westerns, will handle the production of the series in Victoria, Mr. Bishop stated. He is Henry McCrae. Another Universal technician, a Victorian, who has been with the company for eleven years, will be engaged by the Commonwealth Productions, Ltd., to handle its lighting apparatus.

I. E. Chadwick, of Chadwick Pictures, Incorporated, has associated himself with Mr. Bishop for the production of motion pictures by the Commonwealth Productions, Ltd. Mr. Bishop and Mr. Chadwick have been associated in motion picture work in the past. At present Mr. Chadwick is busy with the production of "Jungle Bride," having just completed "Vanity Fair" and "The Bells," starring Lionel Barrymore. He also has just released "The Girl From Calgary," featuring Fifi Dorsay, the French-Canadian actress.

DRAFTS PROGRAMME

Mr. Bishop will be in the city for some time and expects to make more definite announcements in connection with his own company's work shortly.

While in Los Angeles, the various departments of Paramount Pictures were made accessible to Mr. Bishop and every assistance was given him to draft his programme of work in line with the type of work done by Paramount, to which pictures produced here are to be delivered in London for the British market.

FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services for Frank Philip Whiting, who passed away at the family residence, 471 Foster Street, on Tuesday, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. J. H. A. Warr will officiate and the remains will be laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

W. D. Durrance, 1415 Camosun Street, Escapes Uninjured in Accident

An arc light pole and a fire hydrant were snapped off at their bases when a truck collided with them at the corner of Quadra Street and Topaz Avenue yesterday morning, according to a police report.

W. D. Durrance, 1415 Camosun Street, was driving south on Quadra Street when his machine apparently got out of control, due to a blowout in the front right tire, police stated.

The car swerved off the road and crashed into the pole and a fire hydrant close by. The pole was felled to the ground and the hydrant snapped off its base. The driver of the truck was not injured.

J. A. JOHNSON DIES IN PORTLAND; WAS FORMER VICTORIAN

Early Victorians will regret to hear of the death in Portland of John A. Johnson, aged seventy-seven years, who resided in Victoria for many years prior to 1905.

Shortly after his arrival in Victoria Mr. Johnson founded the Queen City Planing Mills, which he managed under the firm name of Johnson, Walker & Fleet for several years. Following this he began his career as a theatrical manager, and was the first to show motion pictures in the Pacific Northwest.

Mr. Johnson went to Portland in December, 1905, where he became allied with Alexander Pantages, whom he had met previously during the time that Mr. Pantages controlled a chain of four vaudeville theatres on the Pacific Coast.

He retired in 1929 when Mr. Pantages sold his nation-wide chain, after an active career in theatrical life.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter and two sons.

DEATH IS MOURNED

There passed away at an early hour yesterday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital, Mrs. Beatrice Force. Born in England forty-four years ago, she came to Victoria in 1913 and resided here continuously until the time of her death. She is mourned by her husband, W. Force, of 598 Speed Avenue; one son, Ernest Wilfred, and one daughter, Beatrice Winifred, both at home; her mother residing at 2411 Quadra Street; two sisters, Mrs. J. Waters, of Victoria, and Mrs. Hammond, of California, and four brothers, F. Dunderdale, A. Dunderdale, of Victoria, and T. Dunderdale and W. Dunderdale in England. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

LAID TO HER REST

Many friends were present on Wednesday, when Rev. Canon Nunns, assisted by Rev. Robert Connell, conducted the funeral service for Mrs. Louisa James. Two hymns were sung during the course of the service, "Abide With Me" and "On the Resurrection Morning." Many beautiful floral offerings covered the casket and hearse. Interment was made at Ross Bay Cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: William James, J. L. Maden, J. Bryant, H. E. Coates, E. Stancil and J. Allen.

Popular Idol Delights Packed House at Royal

Sir Harry Lauder Receives Hilarious Welcome in Characteristically Fine Programme of Songs and Character Studies

Victoria was surprised into a state of almost indecorous hilarity last night. The miracle man who performed the feat was Sir Harry Lauder, the one person in the world at the present time who seems to have the power to make people forget their troubles. A heartening and cheering memory which everyone present at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening will surely gratefully carry for many a long day was the tuneful-voiced and nimble-footed old Scottish comedian, as youthful of spirit as ever, as mobile of feature and roguish of eye, as energetic and tireless, as lovable and as infectiously enthusiastic, blowing farewell kisses off the tips of his fingers to an audience still in convulsions of laughter provoked by some of his final sallies.

How much he was wanted was amply attested in the crowded house and, as he said in his appreciative little speech at the close of the entertainment, "the crack of the applause, the ripple of the laughter," which were the constant accompaniment to his acts, were all the evidence needed that he had succeeded in his mission of cheer. The perpetrator and perpetuator of some of the best Scottish jokes and characters ever created, he last night left a few more as well as a glad memory of himself.

OTHER ITEMS

The programme opened with a cheerful orchestral pot-pourri of Scottish tunes made popular by Sir Harry himself. Then two pipers came on the stage and developed the Lauder atmosphere still further. But lo! Instead of the great comedian the curtain swung back on a dazzling Oriental scene, Persian blue hangings, against which presently appeared two Eastern jugglers, "The Little Johns," poised on revolving balls and performing amazing feats with daggers, dumb-bells, axes and spinning plates.

Then a xylophonist, Major Jerome, whose dexterous performance drew instantaneous applause, particularly the "Hejra Kati," transcribed for the instrument by the artist himself. This was a brilliant and tuneful entertainment, showing baffling deftness of hand.

Then two tap dancers, the lady an acrobat and contortionist who went on tapping even after she had twisted her body into a somersault position or when she lay on the floor curled over into a position where she was literally facing her own heels; the man, a trick artist with the lasso, who finished up his part of the act by simultaneously gyrating a set of miniature lassoos depending from a hoop fastened round his waist. Another excellently effective act in the course of the evening was furnished by Helene Yorke and Virginia Johnson, "Belles of Melody," who, attired in black and white farthingales, enraptured the audience by their singing.

SIR HARRY

Somewhere between these acts Sir Harry Lauder himself emerged against a "braw" Spring scene of sunny stream and wood. Laughing, saucy-eyed, a gay plaidie thrown about his shoulders, a yellow bonnet on his heid and the familiar gnarled stick in his hand, his appearance was the signal for deafening applause, and applause and uproarious laughter followed him through the singing of "Flower o' the Heather," with the humorous monologues between the verses and occasional glimpses of his potently expressive backview to supplement the fun.

Conclusive appreciation greeted his appearance in the next character, that of an old Scots countryman, carpet bag in one hand, gamp in the other, a pawky, shrewd, jovial, alternately gay, dignified and outraged figure telling in "I've Just Got Off the Chain" about his holiday behavior in the absence of his wife who is in hospital.

In his next scene he was a blotchy-faced soldier, one of the regiment stationed at Edinburgh Castle, "a gr-r-reat freen' o' the General's," and disclosing confidences of that august personage which were never intended to be told.

OTHER ROLES

A popular revival was "The Saftest o' the Family," another of Sir Harry inimitable creations, the part of a daft village boy. With broken slate, a frayed brown muffler which serves alternately as handkerchief and slate wiper, and a pocket full of characteristic schoolboy rubbish, this character also convulsed the spectators with its canny and penetrating simplicities. No one but a remarkable observer of his fellows could reproduce the expression of a boy as well as the contents of his pockets as Sir Harry does in this as he brings forth from their numerous hiding places sugar doodles, marbles, his sister's galluses, a rubber ball, bits of ginger, a whistle "which has lost its pea" but which he can remedy the morrow, "as mother is going to be making broth," and other trifles.

To conclude, Sir Harry came back to what Scotsmen the world over probably like the best, a bit of sentiment in the familiar "A'roamin' in the Gloamin'," where as a Hielan' laddie near the wee hoose in the glen, he searches in his pocket for the ring he hopes to place on the finger of his lassie.

They were all great representations.

BEAUTIFICATION PLAN PROPOSED

Volunteer Committee Gives Studied Report on Legislative Gardens

In a report to the Government yesterday, the volunteer committee on grounds improvement at the Legislative Buildings, recommended a definite scheme which could be carried out by degrees as the opportunity afforded. The report was made to Hon. R. W. Bruhn by F. B. Pemberton, Richard Layritz and Norman Rant, after consultation with Henry Whittaker, chief architect, and other provincial officials.

In general, the report suggests action to clear up the lawn at the Buildings by the removal, in time, of maple trees which mask the front; elimination of the central fountain, and transposal of rose beds to the flanks, to be bordered by rows of flowering shrubs. Dead maples near Belleville Street should be taken out at once, and other specified trees removed as occasion offers.

WOULD MASK EYESORES

A general scheme of floral decoration is also suggested, to trim up the sides and rear of the grounds, and to mask unsightly buildings on Menzies and Superior Streets. The boiler plant which supplies heat to the Buildings, remains a puzzle, but efforts are to be made to mask this with creepers and in other ways.

A sunken garden on the west side of the main legislative pile, and future development of a lily pond in the rear, are other proposals that are endorsed by the committee. A comprehensive plan was presented in connection with the recommendations.

Spokesmen for the Government expressed the appreciation of the ministry to the volunteer panel, which devoted considerable time and attention to the task.

A schoolboy who was asked to explain the commas in the sentence, "The customer bought oranges, cereal, and soap," replied, "The commas are there to show pauses while the grocer wraps them up."

Pier Island Costs Covered in Estimates

OTTAWA, Nov. 9.—The only penitentiary construction contemplated in the $209,350 item for the penitentiaries branch of the Department of Justice is the building of accommodation for incarcerated Doukhobors at Pier Island, off the British Columbia coast. The Department of Justice was unable to state the exact cost of the buildings on Pier Island.

"This radio is a wonderful means of reaching the public."

"It has its disadvantages," commented Senator Sorghum. "If you happen to say something you want to take back the next day, there isn't a chance to come out and say the interview was garbled."

ALL WORLD INTERESTED

Press Comments of Different Capitals on United States Elections

The election of Franklin D. Roosevelt was greeted in capitals throughout the world with the hope that it might assist in restoring the world's business and it might have a beneficent effect on the relations between the United States and other nations. Typical comment:

London—Mr. Roosevelt should supply "new vigor and new liberalism" to American national politics and American economic life. The stock exchange received the result favorably.

ANTICIPATE STATESMEN

Paris—Government circles look for an American Cabinet composed of statesmen familiar with European affairs. Norman H. Davis and Owen D. Young were cited.

Vienna—Brewery shares were in the van in an upward movement on the stock exchange. One paper said the "key to regeneration of the world" rested in Mr. Roosevelt.

Berlin — An officially inspired publication summed up thus: "Words of gratitude to the outgoing and hopeful expectations concerning the incoming President."

RESULT WELCOMED

Tokio—Government officials and newspapers said no change in American policy toward the Orient could be expected. Business leaders welcomed the result as improving Japan's economic position. Commodity markets showed the strongest advance in many weeks.

Rome—Wine producers were jubilant. No hope was expressed for debt cancellation or revision. There was a general expectation of great participation by the United States in the League of Nations, without formal entry.

PEACEFUL REVOLUTION

Buenos Aires—South American papers saw important lessons in the election. A Rio de Janeiro journal said the Roosevelt victory represented "a peaceful revolution of great consequence, which exacted no sacrifice of life or property and offered a magnificent example to the nations of Latin America."

Vatican City—Osservator Romano, Vatican organ, said "the only victor in the election is the American people."

Havana—Cuba hoped for modification of the sugar tariff. One journalist hailed Mr. Roosevelt as "a sort of John the Baptist, bearing who knows what good tidings for the world in general and Cuba in particular."

In their literature the Egyptians excelled all other Oriental nations of antiquity.

City & District

Museum to Be Closed—The Provincial Museum will be closed on Remembrance Day, November 11.

By-Law Is Approved—Oak Bay's local improvement consolidation by-law, No. 13, was approved by the Government yesterday.

High Percentage—In the recent sortation examinations held for postal employees, J. B. Sinclair, Victoria postal clerk, obtained 100 per cent efficiency.

Books Donated—A donation of twenty books by William Lothian to the library of the Victoria College was acknowledged at last night's meeting of the city school board.

Takes Brief Rest—Hon. R. W. Bruhn left for Kamloops yesterday on a brief visit to the Interior. Mr. Bruhn is still under doctor's orders following his recent illness, but is making good recovery.

Expenditures Cut—The report of the finance committee submitted at last night's meeting of the city school board revealed that expenditures for education in the city were still being kept below those of last year. So far, $409,634 have been spent, as compared with $440,920 for the corresponding period of last year.

Praises Honesty—A. Swaluk, of this city, has a high opinion of the honesty of the staff of the Capitol Theatre. When entering the theatre recently he inadvertently pulled a ten-dollar bill out of his pocket. This fell to the floor at the entrance unknown to him, but a little later one of the ushers approached him and produced the money.

Postoffice Hours—For the Remembrance Day holiday, Postmaster G. H. Gardiner announces that the Postoffice lobby will be open as on ordinary week days. All wickets will be closed all day, there will be no delivery by letter carriers, and all mails to be dispatched will be made up as usual.

To Honor French—The Victoria Comite France-Canada and L'Alliance Francaise have co-operated to provide a wreath to be placed on the War Memorial, Parliament Square, on Armistice Day, in memory of the soldiers of France who fell in the Great War. Mrs. O'Meara will carry the French flag and Major Longstaff, president of the Comite France-Canada, will place the wreath on the Memorial.

Land Sale Made—Required as the site of a hydraulic power plant for the West Kootenay Power & Light Company, at Adams River, portions of Sections 28 and 33, Township 22, Range 12, comprising 170 acres, were sold by the Government to the company yesterday at $5 an acre. The land is required in connection with the Adams River power development project.

Oil Lease Renewed—The Government renewed by order-in-council yesterday a lease of Lot 327 in the Peace River district, held under the Coal and Petroleum Act in the name of Patrick Burns. The original lease was taken out several years ago, but isolation of the district has retarded development. The renewal, for a period of three years, was made subject to the payment of the usual fees.

Interested in Boys—A. F. Hammesfahr, of Chicago, in a letter to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, asked for stickers advertising this city and Vancouver Island to be used by a party of boys on an automobile tour. The writer has conducted a number of these parties of boys through the West, including Vancouver Island in the itinerary. He will have about fourteen boys in the latest tour.

Advertises Island—The Montreal Standard has published an article written by Frank Gioima, of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, descriptive of the logging and lumbering industry on Vancouver Island. In addition to the article covering the subject, photogravure illustrations of work in the woods and the hauling of the logs to the water are displayed in The Standard.

Cigarettes Cheaper—On and after November 21, Victoria cigarette smokers will buy their Canadian-made cigarettes 20 per cent cheaper than present prices, it was announced by dealers here yesterday. The price reduction is directly due to the action of the Federal Government in cutting the amount of excise tax. Cigarettes now selling for 25 cents for a packet of twenty, will sell after November 21 for 20 cents.

Estimates in Making—Estimates of revenue by each department of the provincial service for the fiscal year 1933-34, commencing April next, were placed in the hands of the Treasury this week. On these will be based the estimates of expenditure, now being compiled. Hon. J. W. Jones has given notice of expected savings in all departments, to contribute towards a balanced budget for the next fiscal year. So far, statutory grants have proved the chief stumbling block in curtailment of provincial costs.

Hearing Is Adjourned—Owing to the illness of Stuart Henderson, counsel for Ralph W. Walters, former Washington State financier, who is wanted in the United States on a charge of grand larceny, extradition proceedings were again adjourned until Wednesday next. Mr. Walters appeared before County Court Judge Peter S. Lampman yesterday morning and was formally remanded until that date. The application for a writ of habeas corpus for Charles E. Walters, already awaiting extradition, was to have been heard in Supreme Court last Tuesday, but has been set over until next Tuesday, November 15.

Vancouver Doctor Dies Unexpectedly

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9 (CP).—Dr. John Edward Matheson, twenty-nine, assistant director of the pathological laboratory of Vancouver General Hospital, died suddenly today at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Matheson. He attended his duties at the hospital as usual on Monday, though he complained of a slight cold.

Dr. Matheson studied at the University of British Columbia, later graduating in medicine at Toronto.

REPORT OF NAVAL SCRAP BELATED

News Becomes Known With Announcement of $40 "Reparations" Payment for Misdirection

OTTAWA, Nov. 9 (CP).—Belated reports of naval operations in Prince Edward Island waters, with news of gunfire and destruction to property, were conveyed to the House of Commons yesterday by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance and Acting Minister of Fisheries.

For the first time, it was learned His Majesty's Canadian patrol cutter Arras had lately been in action, that a bombardment had been directed (or rather, misdirected) against the stable and henhouse of Mrs. E. P. Hopgood, of Cape Wolfe, P.E.I., and that "reparations" in the sum of $40 had been paid.

About a month ago the Arras, cruising off the Prince Edward Island coast, observed a motorboat illegally setting lobster traps. The motorboat immediately dumped the traps and made off.

The cutter, unable to overhaul the smaller launch, opened fire, with blank and then a live shell across the bows of the fleeing craft, with disastrous results on the henhouse.

WIND DELAYS SHIPPING

MONTREAL, Nov. 9 (CP).—Unless the levels of the St. Lawrence River between Cardinal and Kingston rises, the movement of grain between Montreal and Europe will be impeded. A strong east wind has cut down the normal flow of water into the river from Lake Ontario, consequently reducing water levels and delaying shipping.

WELL-KNOWN CANADIAN REALIZING DESIRE OF MANY YEARS STANDING

Embarking on a visit to countries he always had a desire to see, Lieutenant-Colonel J. Obed Smith, at one time Superintendent of Immigration for Canada in Great Britain and latterly connected with the Hudson's Bay Company in an advisory capacity, is a passenger on the Canadian-Australasian liner Aorangi, sailing for the South Seas this morning.

Colonel Smith, seen on the liner here last night shortly after the ship's arrival, stated that his present trip was one of pleasure only, and had nothing whatever to do with business. He just wanted to see Hawaii, the Fiji Islands, New Zealand and Australia, a desire which is of long standing.

Colonel Smith is accompanied by Mrs. Smith, and both are looking forward to an interesting and enjoyable holiday "Down Under."

Summer Frocks May Be Laid Away in Lavender

With Little Sachets Kept in the Folds During Winter Months, Garments Will Emerge Delicately Scented Next Season

By GLADYS GLAD
"America's Most Famous Beauty"

Good clothes, like good friends, wear well. And so, when milady packs her favorite Summer frocks away for the duration of the cold season, she usually looks forward to renewing their delightful acquaintance the following Summer.

GLADYS GLAD

When the succeeding Summer does roll around, however, and milady finally takes these favorite frocks out of their storage boxes, the chances are that she does not find them half so enchanting as she formerly thought them. For, as a rule, they smell camphory and musty. And there is a tired stuffiness about them that is most displeasing.

LAVENDER SACHETS

Since it is at this time that most women pack away their Summer garments, my suggestion is that little sacks of lavender be purchased or made and scattered amongst the clothes that are being packed. Lavender has a deliciously clean, sweet odor, and if packed with your clothes, will impregnate them with its fragrance. And when the time for unpacking arrives, there will be none of that unpleasant mustiness about your garments.

It is an old English and continental belief that lavender is just as effective in killing and in preventing the activties of moths as is camphor. Even our grandmothers believed this, although nowadays folks are inclined to consider camphor the more potent of the two. However, regardless of whether you trust the moth-preventing properties of lavender, pack some away with your clothes, anyway. Use your camphor balls or your tar bags and the like if you wish. But use lavender generously, also, so that your garments will not acquire a stuffy, musty odor.

DELICATE SCENT

Lavender certainly is cheap enough, so there's no reason for not using it. If you cannot afford to buy the lavender tablets or bags already made up, make them yourself. Just make tiny sacks out of any thin sort of fabric, and fill them with the lavender flowers that may be procured at any well-stocked drug store. Then scatter these sacks among the folds of the garments you are packing. And when, the following season, you unpack them, your frocks will smell delicately sweet and fragrant.

APPEAL MADE FOR MEALS AT SCHOOL

Many Undernourished Children Reported to Be Attending Victoria Classes

Mrs. A. Campbell and E. Linden, delegates from the Neighborhood Councils of Victoria, waited upon the city school board last night to petition for the serving of one hot meal a day to undernourished children in the public schools.

They stated that there were many boys and girls sent to school with only a few slices of dry bread for lunch, and that these same children had very little for breakfast.

It was suggested that hot meals could be served to them by using the domestic science kitchens.

The board stated it would take the matter under advisement, and have its staff of nurses conduct an investigation into the number of undernourished children attending schools.

POPPY CAMPAIGN RESUMED TODAY

Special Appeal Being Made to the Public by Remembrance Day Committee

"The Poppy Day effort, which was abandoned last Saturday, will be resumed today, and we appeal to the public to respond in full measure to avert defeat. Victory can only be assured by determination on the part of citizens on whose efforts success or failure rests. The obstacle with which we are confronted is serious. The deficit which existed after Saturday's sale has been added to by the expense of renewing stock damaged by the rain, and this extra and unexpected cost has made the price to the committee of each poppy nearly five cents. This is a serious handicap, brought about through no fault of our own," a representative of the Remembrance Day committee informed The Colonist yesterday.

"There is no truth in the unfounded report that commercially made poppies are being made in Victoria. Every poppy and every wreath has been made in the Red Cross Workshop, furnishing employment for twelve disabled veterans. Our first objective is to insure continued work for the poppy makers; after that, to assist needy comrades and dependents from the profits, if any are derived from the sale. All offers of cheap commercially made poppies have been refused, and always will be.

"The poppy fund assisted 483 persons last year. One hundred and fifty cases, including four widows, with 333 dependents, were dealt with. Eighty-five meal tickets and 350 grocery vouchers were issued, at a total cost of $1,752.18, an average of $3.65 per person for the year.

"Even this small measure of help will not be available unless the public responds in generous measure today. We have to provide for a heavy loss, caused by bad weather, before the fund can benefit by a single cent, and we appeal to every citizen to come to our assistance in our hour of need. Our "backs are to the wall," and we trust Victoria to "do its duty."

Anglican Young People

St. Mark's

The members of the A.Y.P.A. of St. Mark's will be hosts to the fellowship gathering to be held in the church hall, Tennyson Road, after the service on Sunday evening. Very Rev. C. S. Quainton will be the speaker, and an entertaining programme of music has been arranged. These meetings are held periodically for the purpose of extending the hand of fellowship to strangers in the parish, and it is hoped many will attend the meeting.

Elsteddfod is a Welsh word, meaning literally "sitting," or "session."

Two-Year-Old Is Most Accomplished

SAN Francisco has a phenomenal two-year-old child, Marilyn Rose Tealdi, who has already an amazing grasp of reading, writing and arithmetic. Marilyn, shown here, could win any spelling match—she knows nearly every word in the dictionary. Even her parents are surprised by her actions. At eighteen months she knew her alphabet by memory. She has never forgotten anything that has been told her since birth, her mother says. Marilyn has grown to the size of a five-year-old child, reads, writes and what she don't know about multiplication isn't worth knowing. She can typewrite, play piano, and is very good on recitation of poems. She is believed by her mother to inherit her gifts from her grandfather, who was a noted astronomer and writer. But alas, poor Marilyn will have to go to school just the same, and soon at that, her mother says.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"SCORPIO"

If November 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this day are from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m., and from 11 p.m. to 11:45 p.m. The danger hours are from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Start this November 10 right and it will end right. The results that you will get from this day's activities will depend largely on yourself. Start out on the right foot and reap the rewards of right desires and right activity. Begin the day with a dismal, depressed and grouchy outlook, and watch petty annoyances and difficulties pile up all along the way. It is within your power to make it a fruitful day.

Children born on this November 10 will be guided by impulses. Care should be taken to guard them against unwise ones. Habits formed early in life are difficult to overcome and particularly is this true of these little ones. These children must be made to realize the value of promptness and punctuality. They must be taught to save money but not to be miserly about it. Affectionate and loving.

Born on November 10, you have a flair for the dramatic. You most probably look upon life as a dramatic episode, and your happiness comes from your invariably seeing yourself as playing some role. You never visualize yourself as playing a minor part. You have an inborn conceit which is not at all becoming. You have few friends as a result, and those you do have often wonder just what it is about you they do like. Most probably they sense that deep within you is a really worthwhile person, kind and friendly, sincere and honest and considerate of others. Why not attempt to bring forth this suppressed self? You can do it and the results will be conducive to much happiness.

A career on the stage would probably prove successful. You would do well in almost any field requiring powers of visualization and creativeness. Your love and understanding of children would enable you to successfully deal with them from almost any approach. You have keen but undeveloped powers of observation. Learn to study and observe the people about you for you will find that a great deal of your success will depend upon your ability to profit from the successes and failures of others. Seek to lead a normal existence in every way; curb your tendencies to eccentricity in dress, actions and speech. Make your head rule your heart in affairs of sentiment.

BOARD BUSY WITH CORRESPONDENCE

LADYSMITH, Nov. 9.—Little business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Board of Trade this evening, although a heavy volume of correspondence was dealt with.

The city council informed the board it was not aware of any proposed school consolidation within the district, and had no information on the matter.

A resolution adopted by the Nanaimo Board of Trade asking for reciprocity for Canadian tourists to the United States in the matter of an allowance of $100 tariff free goods from across the boundary, created some discussion. United States travelers from Canada are allowed to return with personal goods, not for resale, to the value of $100, exempt from tax or duty, while there is no concession to the Canadian tourist from the other side of the line. Some of the members questioned the utility of an amendment to the existing tariffs, but the resolution was finally endorsed unanimously.

The projected service club for the city provoked some debate. A general invitation to the members of the board to attend the next meeting of the club, led the president, W. W. Walkem, to remark he hoped the members as individuals would consider attending if possible.

The Vancouver Board of Trade intimated it had a few editions of the Kidd Report with the Government's comments thereon, if the local board was interested. Several copies will be procured.

Mrs. F. Roosevelt Is Welcomed by Class

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—In a small classroom with blue-painted woodwork and walls decorated with charts and maps done by her pupils, the wife of the next President of the United States came back to her job today.

On a wooden bench without any back sat Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the head of a table, and around the table, also on benches, sat a small group of girls, about sixteen or seventeen years old.

It was a class in current events, and the discussion—directed by Mrs. Roosevelt, who never, however, expressed an opinion of her own—ranged from the question "What makes people commit suicide?" to the relative importance of brains and ambition in one's career.

What happened yesterday in the life of the teacher was not mentioned until the end. As the class broke up, one girl said:

"We think it's grand to have the wife of the President for our teacher."

"But I'm not the wife of the President yet," the teacher replied. "That doesn't happen until next March, and anyway I don't want you to think of me that way."

NEW COMEDY AT CAPITOL TODAY

George M. Cohan Stars in "The "Phantom President" With Fine Supporting Cast

"The Phantom President," a political comedy, featuring George M. Cohan, Claudette Colbert and Jimmy Durante, opens today at the Capitol Theatre. It is Cohan's first talking picture, though he has been a prominent stage personality for three decades.

The picture deals with a presidential campaign, in which the behind-scenes wire-pullers select a candidate well equipped for the job, but lacking the personality to win votes.

Stumped and about to drop him as a possibility, they suddenly change their minds when they discover a medicine-show barker, practically oozing personality, who is an exact double for their man.

Cohan plays the dual role of the candidate and his double. Miss Colbert is the daughter of an ex-president of whom the two Cohans are enamored, and for whom they battle. Durante is the barker's buddy. His "schnozzle" is prominent throughout the picture.

"Igloo," an epic picture of real life in the frozen North, forms the second feature, an Edward Small production. The cast is practically entirely formed of Eskimos, shown in their natural setting of icy wastes, a theme of drama and romance runs through the portrayal of life in the Arctic.

EMPIRE THEATRE One of the gayest of stage comedies in recent years serves as Ina Claire's first screen vehicle under her contract with Samuel Goldwyn. It is "The Greeks Had a Word for Them," and will close today at the Empire Theatre. This comedy from the witty pen of Zoe Akins was one of the big hits of the last New York stage season. Sidney Howard, author of such sophisticated plays as "They Knew What They Wanted" and "Lucky Sam McCarver," was selected by Samuel Goldwyn to make the screen adaptation.

DOMINION THEATRE "The Big Broadcast," romantic comedy starring the outstanding personalities of the day and a group of movie favorites, ends its run at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. Stuart Erwin, Bing Crosby and Leila Hyams head the cast of the picture, with these radio stars lending assistance: Burns and Allen, Kate Smith, the Mills Brothers, the Boswell Sisters, Arthur Tracy (the Street Singer), Vincent Lopez and his orchestra and Cab Calloway and his orchestra.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—"The Phantom President," starring George Cohan.

Columbia — Buck Jones in "White Eagle."

Dominion—"The Big Broadcast," featuring radio stars.

Empire—Ina Claire in "The Greeks Had a Word for Them."

Playhouse—"Strangers of the Evening," featuring ZaSu Pitts.

Romano—Rex Lease in "The Utah Kid."

Crystal Garden — Swimming and Dancing.

BRITISH PRODUCTION AT EMPIRE TOMORROW

It is doubtful if Nancy Price, Elizabeth Allan and Morris Harvey will ever be able to look a winkle in the face again. Their roles in "Down Our Street," the Paramount British production coming to the Empire Theatre on Friday, calling for a hearty consumption of these humble little shellfish.

Morris Harvey, who is playing his original stage part of Bill Collins, an East London barber, holds the record for winkle eating—he can persuade a winkle out of its shell with an ordinary pin more skilfully than any actor.

Rex Lease Stars In "The Utah Kid"

Richard Thorpe, who has directed several pictures for Tiffany Productions, including "Wings of Adventure," with Rex Lease, was selected by Phil Goldstone, chief studio executive, to guide the filming of Rex Lease's first Western vehicle.

"The Utah Kid," which plays at the Romano Theatre today for three days, a story written by Frank Howard Clark, and prepared in screen continuity by the same writer, will be Lease's first effort.

"The Utah Kid" is a fast action story laid in the West of comparatively recent history, and is largely concerned with the activities of a gang of robbers in rough mountain country.

Fine Double Bill Will Open Today

A cast of compelling screen personalities, coupled with an unusual murder mystery from the pen of the increasingly popular Tiffany Thayer, makes "Strangers of the Evening," the Tiffany picture, which opens today at the Playhouse Theatre, one of the outstanding murder mysteries of the year.

Zasu Pitts in her never failing, mournful comedy; Lucien Littlefield as the happy gentleman who has lost his memory and with it his name; Harold Waldridge as the frightened undertaker's assistant, and Eugene Pallette and Francis Sayles, the two bewildered detectives, furnish a riot of comedy that lifts this murder story from any chance of becoming morbid.

Family life—its joys and disappointments, its excitements, its human drama, its laughing hours—all these are presented with facile directorial touches and skilful artistic strength in "Husband's Holiday," the Paramount talkie featuring Clive Brook, Charlie Ruggles, Vivienne Osborne and Harry Bannister at the Playhouse Theatre as the added feature.

VOLUMINOUS WEDDING GOWN WORN BY STAR

A wedding gown containing sixty-five yards of silk net and 162 yards of silk lace is worn by Norma Shearer in "Smilin' Through," her latest talking picture which is showing at the Dominion Theatre on Saturday. The story, laid in England, covers two periods, 1864 and 1914, with Miss Shearer playing a dual role. It is in the earlier sequences that she wears the voluminous wedding gown which was designed by Adrian and made at the studio by the combined efforts of eleven wardrobe experts.

Western Thriller Stars Buck Jones

Buck Jones' latest Columbia picture, "White Eagle," due at the Columbia Theatre today, was filmed on location in the San Francisquito Canyon, about fifty miles from Hollywood, where the collapse of the St. Francis Dam in 1927 drowned between 200 and 300 persons. It was one of the most terrible disasters in America's history, as the waters, eighty feet high, burst over the helpless victims as they slept.

Jones plays the role of an Indian pony express rider in "White Eagle," produced from a story by Fred Myton, noted Western writer. Barbara Weeks is the heroine, and the supporting cast includes Jason Robards, Robert Ellis, Frank Campeau, Ward Bond, Robert Elliott, Frank Hagney and Jim Thorpe. Lambert Hillyer directed.

CHAPTER XIII

Judy thought about Lona, and about Elton Day. She'd been sure he was independent, absolutely in control. Suppose he wasn't, really? Suppose he had to take orders to save his own job? He'd do it. No doubt about that.

Judy nodded.

"I guess you're right, Elsie. Only it's hard to believe."

"Nothing's hard to believe about men," said Elsie sharply.

"You don't really mean that."

"You don't know how much I mean it."

"But—" Crimson, Judy held back the words. She was too frank: she was going to say, "But you don't know anything about men. Men never want to lie to you."

"But what?" Elsie stood up, facing her.

"I—nothing," Judy said quickly.

Elsie grinned, a forced sort of grin, but gallant, determined.

"Never mind," she said. "I know. Men never give me a tumble. All right. I'm sitting on the sidelines, then. But I've got eyes and I've got ears. Haven't I heard plenty of 'em lying? Haven't I seen plenty? I've been in Chicago a lot longer than you have, Judy, and I'm telling you no man in the world will give you a break if it means losing anything himself. They're all alike."

She laughed to herself.

"But I read that in a book," she said, "or saw it in a movie. Anyhow, it's so. And you—well, you know it's so. Look what the dear Day boy did to you. And now——"

"'Yes,' Judy Said. 'I'm Going Home in the Morning.'"

"Now I'm going to pack said Judy brightly. "Won't take long. And there's a train for Omaha first thing in the morning. I can be home by tomorrow night." There was a long pause.

Then, "Home," Judy said, nothing else. Bue she could see it. She could see her father meeting her at the train, being nice, being glad to see her, hurrying her up to the house, throwing open the door, shouting "Mother! Judy's home!"

She could see the girls in the neighborhood coming over, throwing their arms around her saying, "Glad you're back, Judy."

She knew what they'd be thinking. They wouldn't let her feel it, not at first. They'd listen while she talked about people she saw in Chicago, about going to shows; she'd have to make up stories about people, to satisfy the girls and the folks back home.

And then all at once the thing would wear thin; they'd begin to let her see what they'd been thinking all the time.

"You couldn't make it. You told everybody you'd do this and that. And your mother told people you were doing so well. And there was a piece in the paper about you getting that scholarship. And now—well, you're home all right. You're home."

Nervously Judy tossed the powder-blue dress into her suitcase.

"Here!" Elsie snapped, businesslike, energetic. "Want to ruin it, throwing it in like that?"

"I'll never wear it again, anyhow," Judy said.

"Huh!"

"I couldn't bear to wear it again."

"Huh!"

Elsie held the dress in front of her, looking at her reflection in the mirror. "Looks pretty swell to me."

"Do you like it?"

"Of course, Judy."

"Then—won't you take it?"

"Huh?"

"I mean, I really don't want it any more. I'd be thinking about tonight every time I put it on, and how elegant I thought I was. And then coming home and——"

Elsie pirouetted, holding the dress before her, doing an absurd pose, one leg back, one hand outstretched.

"I couldn't even get into it," she giggled. "Not with my lines."

"Of course you could," Judy said. Tears were forgotten; there is something about trying on a dress, about seeing somebody else wear a dress you know looks well on you, that precludes tears. "Here. Try it, Elsie, try it."

"I couldn't." Elsie drew back, honestly embarrassed.

"Of course you could. Slip it on."

Elsie's hand indicated her flapping pajamas. "Over these?"

"Why not?" Judy demanded, laughing a little. "Here, hold still."

She tugged the dress over Elsie's wide, strong shoulders. It was tight, too tight. If Elsie tried to move her strong arms in the powder-blue dress. They struggled, both of them, until at last the dress was smooth and Judy stepped back to say, "Look, it fits, beautifully, Elsie."

"Huh!" Elsie made a face at herself. "Doesn't look the way it looked on you, though. And—" She pointed at her feet. Beneath the hem of the skirt appeared eight inches of scarlet, flaring pajama legs. "Wouldn't that be a swell combination to wear down Michigan? Wouldn't that make 'em turn out the guard?"

Outside on the stairs Judy heard footsteps. "Quick!" she said. "The door—it's half open." She ran to the corner, seized her robe tugged it around her shoulders. "Elsie! The door!"

The footsteps were outside the door. And Elsie, closing the door, stopped, swung it open instead.

Dick stood outside, a little startled, a little amused. The pajama legs thrust out beneath the powder-blue dress, the expression on Elsie's face. Dick roared, and all at once Elsie roared, too, in that deep, honest laughter Judy envied so much. Then Dick, for the first time, saw Judy, standing near the dresser, the robe drawn tightly around her.

"Oh—" The smile was gone. He stepped back, stumbled, almost fell backward down the steps, caught himself. "I'm sorry. I didn't mean to— I was going to my room."

"Wait a minute," Elsie snapped. "You've got nothing to be sorry for. Come in here for a minute. Hurry up, before we wake up the house."

"Why——" he stammered.

"Elsie," Judy began, "you shouldn't——"

"Come in," said Elsie again, and her strong, capable hand jerked Dick Mason inside. She closed the door, turned her back against it, grinned.

* * *

"Sit down, you!" She pushed Dick toward a chair.

"But——" Judy began.

"No words wanted," said Elsie, giggling. "I'm running this show, partner. Listen, Dick. You know what's happened?"

"What?"

"Here."

She handed him Elton Day's telegram. And Judy, reaching for it, desperate, scarlet with embarrassment, was too late. For Dick's eyes had read the few words, had seen the signature. He was looking at her now. He seemed to struggle not to speak. Then at last he managed. "Oh!" And that, for the moment, was all anybody said.

Judy, raging, turned away from Elsie, looked here and there in the room. She wished the earth would open up and swallow her, she wished Elsie had never been born, she wished——

She felt Dick's hands on her shoulders. Stubbornly she drew away. But his hands turned her around slowly, until she looked up at his grave, earnest face, at his deep eyes.

"Judy! he dropped you off the programme after all."

"Yes," Judy said. Then with an effort she laughed lightly. "So it's curtains for the big show. And—I'm going home in the morning."

"You're not!"

"I am."

"I say you're not!"

"Why—" she began. "No man had any right to talk to Judy Allison like that. No man."

"You're not going home, because Elton Day can't do this and get away with it. Because you're going to stay on that show and nothing my little pal says is going to change it. You hear me, Judy?"

"I——"

"You're not going home, I say! Not if I have to turn that studio upside down. Not if—" Suddenly he released her shoulders. "Elsie," he snapped.

* * *

Elsie, tiptoeing toward the door, stopped as though in midair.

"Huh?" she managed.

"Elsie, you're going to see to it that Judy stays right here. If she tries to pack up and get out of here you lock the door on her. You understand me, Elsie?"

Elsie clicked her heels like an erratic wooden soldier. "Yep," she said. "Yep."

"But——" Judy began again.

"Not a word out of you," Dick Mason said now. His face was smiling, but there was no smile in his eyes. "Judy, listen to me. Elton Day can't do that to you, and he's not going to. I told you that job was yours, and it is, and you've got to stay. You've got to let me show that boy he can't get away with anything like this. You simply have to stay."

"I can't."

"You can and you must. Please, please, Judy!"

* * *

She stepped back a little. Over his shoulder she could see Elsie nodding wildly, signaling. "Say 'yes,' and unbelieving, she heard her own voice saying, "All right, I'll stay, I'll stay, then, Dick."

"You promise?"

"Yes, I promise."

He smiled suddenly.

"Then everything's going to be all right. Judy, you be at the studio at nine in the morning. Elsie, you take a day off and see that she's there. And good night. Judy, you—you're wonderful."

With that he turned through the door, the door closed.

"Well," said Elsie, after a long moment, "didn't I say men were swell guys? Didn't I?"

And Judy starting at the door, still seeing the look in Dick Mason's eyes, still hearing his deep voice, nodded.

"Yes," she said. "Yes, Elsie, I guess you did."

(To Be Continued)

He: "Of course, you understand dear, that for business reasons our engagement must be kept secret."

She: "Oh, yes, I tell everybody that."

Fisheries Station Staff Investigated New Freezing Plan

Experts at Prince Rupert Conducted Experiments Along Lines Suggested by U.S. Bureau of Fisheries—Ice-Glaze Way Best

In a recent report issued by the United States Bureau of Fisheries entitled "Reducing the Shrinkage of Frozen Fish in Cold Storage," a new method was advanced which the author of the article thinks superior to the commercial practice of glazing fish with a coating of ice to prevent the evaporation of moisture. The new method consists of coating fish, prior to freezing, with a film of some inexpensive edible oil such as cottonseed, corn or peanut oil. The interest aroused by this novel method was responsible for some experiments conducted by workers of the Fisheries Experimental Station at Prince Rupert. The experiments were carried out at the plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company, states O. C. Young, who was in charge of the work.

The purpose of the experiments was to compare the loss in weight of fish treated with various oils with others treated in the ordinary way with ice-glaze. The procedure consists in coating halibut and salmon with Crisco, cottonseed oil, mazola and slightly hydrogenated pilchard oil, in the manner described in the Bureau of Fisheries report. The fish were wiped and dried, and the oil painted on with a brush, after which they were immediately placed in the sharp freezer. After freezing, they were stored in the regular cold storage rooms along with several similar fish freshly treated with ice-glaze. The salmon and halibut were stored in different rooms, each room being devoted to but one kind of fish. The salmon room was about half full at the time of the experiment, while the halibut room was full during all that time.

SLIGHT DIFFERENCE

Judging by the results the oil-treated fish seem to have retained their weight slightly better than the ice-glazed fish, but this by no means signifies that the fish had become less dehydrated. An examination of the glazed specimens showed that the glaze had disappeared in spots, notably from the fins, tails, napes and pokes, but the ice was intact over the main portion of the fish. In other words, the loss in weight of these specimens must have been due almost entirely to the evaporation of the glaze, so that the fish were not dehydrated or dried, except in those places where the glaze had disappeared. On the other hand the loss in weight of the oil-treated fish must have been due entirely to dehydration of the fish, consequently it cannot be concluded that the oil treatment is superior to the glazing method from the standpoint of dehydration.

Perhaps the most important factor in any method of storage is the appearance of the product upon reaching the consumer. Realizing this, a representative fish from each group was thawed in order to determine which treatment would produce the best appearance from the consumer's point of view. Aside from any consideration of dehydration, or expense of treatment, the appearance of the oiled fish, which was very poor, would alone be sufficient to detract from the use of this method.

WERE UNSIGHTLY

In the case of the fish treated with Crisco, the drying out at the points where the coating had cracked or chipped off, rendered the specimen decidedly unsightly. The mazola, cottonseed and pilchard oil-treated fish were all discolored. The appearance of the fish which had been glazed was quite normal and very much superior to the oil-treated ones.

Mr. Young concludes by stating that the new oil treatment is inferior to ice glazing both from the viewpoint of its effect on dehydration and its effect on appearance. In the matter of expense, the glazing method is unquestionably cheaper, since a very cheap substance, water, is used and the weight of the ice added to a fish more than repays the extra handling costs. From the customer's viewpoint, however, the use of the oil method might possibly permit a lower retail price, but this is doubtful. The cost of the oil and the slight increase in operating costs would about equalize, it seems, the loss in weight sustained by the melting of the ice in the case of the glazed fish.

British Columbia Grapes Are Great For Wine-Making

Expert From Italy Enthusiastic Over Possibilities of Industry in Okanagan Valley—Likes Quebec System of Distributing Liquor

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—British Columbia grapes are among the finest in the world for wine-making, according to Dr. Bruno Dagna, director of chemical laboratories of the Italian Ministry of Agriculture at Turin. This wine expert sailed back to Italy yesterday morning by the Cunard liner Ascania after concluding a visit to British Columbia lasting for some months. Dr. Dagna was invited by the British Columbia Government to spend some time in the province to advise and superintend the activities of Italian winegrowers in the Okanagan Valley.

Dr. Dagna expressed himself in enthusiastic terms over the possibilities for wine growing in British Columbia and says he admires that province very much. His few days' stay in Montreal gave him an excellent impression of Canadian cities. He praised the Quebec system of distributing wines and spirits and deplored the fact that in any Canadian provinces it was not possible to buy small quantities of Canadian wine in restaurants.

Another passenger on the Ascania was Rev. Colonel A. C. Trench, M.C., M.A., of Madras, India, who is proceeding to London on furlough, where he will confer with Rev. "Tubby" Clayton, head of the Toc H movement. Colonel Trench is the head of this movement in Madras and is at present attached to the garrison there as chaplain. He spoke highly of the organization of Toc H in other cities in India such as Delhi, and in great ports like Alexandria in Egypt, where "chummeries" have been established for the reception and entertainment of men from warships and mercantile vessels. Toc H is gradually becoming a powerful influence throughout the world, according to Colonel Trench.

Scotland Defeats England 3 to 0 in Soccer Encounter

Thirty Thousand Fans See Scottish Leaguers Blank English Representatives—Dewar Registers Brilliant Marker Just Before Time

MANCHESTER, Eng., Nov. 9 (CP). — The Scottish Football League defeated the English Football League, 3-0, in an inter-league match today. Thirty thousand persons saw the game, although the weather was cool.

Beautiful ball control by the forwards gave the English a difficult time, and Campbell had great difficulty in holding the Scottish right wing, where Archibald was in brilliant form. Four minutes before the halftime interval, Archibald centred from the corner flag and Napier scrambled the ball into the goal.

The English were better at the outset of the second half, but their forwards were slow in manoeuvreing, and enabled the Scottish to pack their goal when attacked. Dewar twice ran through the English defence and was intercepted by Goodall just when about to shoot.

A GREAT GOAL

After twenty-five minutes, Napier was fouled on the edge of the penalty area and scored on the succeeding shot. From then on the English forwards, although brilliantly led by Hulme, were never in a real scoring position. Just before time was up, Dewar received a pass from the right, swung around quickly and scored the goal of a lifetime with a rasping fifteen-yard shot.

The teams:

English League—Hibbs, Birmingham; Goodall, Huddersfield; Blenkinsop, Strange, Sheffield Wednesday; Talbot, Aston Villa; Campbell, Huddersfield; Hulme, Arsenal; J. Smith, Portsmouth; Brown, Aston Villa; Johnson, Everton, and Houghton, Aston Villa.

Scottish League—Jackson, Partick Thistle; Crabnell, Airdrieonians; McGonagle, Celtic; Meiklejohn, Rangers; J. A. Johnstone, Hearts; Geatons, Celtic; Archibald, Marshall, Rangers; Dewar, Third Lanark; McPhail, Rangers, and Napier, Celtic.

The bout is at the welterweight limit of 147 pounds, which McLarnin will likely weigh, forcing Canzoneri to spot him close to ten pounds unless he gathers considerable avordupois.

HUDSON'S BAY TO FACE NAVY XI TOMORROW

Elevens to Clash in Midweek Soccer Tilt at Hill—Hotel Faces Hearts

With the leadership at stake, Hudson's Bay and the Navy will battle in an important fixture in the Hayward Cup series in the Wednesday Football League tomorrow afternoon on the lower Beacon Hill grounds at 2:45 o'clock, with Alcock in charge of the whistle. In the same series, Empress Hotel and Hearts will clash at Central Park at the same hour, with Johnson in charge. Owing to the holiday tomorrow on account of Remembrance Day and the stores being open yesterday, the league officials were forced to switch their games.

The Hudson's Bay-Navy clash is expected to be one of the best matches of the season and a large following of the midweek loop should be on deck to witness the struggle. Both elevens will have their best material on hand. At present Saanich United are holding down first berth, but will be idle tomorrow and a win for either the Bays or the sailors will put them out in front by a lone point.

Empress Hotel and the Hearts will be fighting to increase their position in the standings. A victory for the Hearts will pull them out of the cellar, while a decision the other way will serve to strengthen the the hotelmen's hold on fourth position.

ANDERSON AND MASSONG WILL APPEAR HERE

Seattle Flash to Tackle Yakima Middleweight on Tillicum Card Saturday

Des Anderson, flashy Seattle middleweight wrestler, will meet Carl Massong, of Yakima, in the main event of the Saturday night card at the Tillicum gymnasium. The tussle is slated to go eight ten-minute rounds. Two five ten-minute-round events have been arranged for the double semi-wind-up. In the first, "Fat" Griffin and Johnnie Pears, both of Victoria, will wrestle, and in the other, Frank Draper, of Vancouver, will meet "Cyclone" Burns, of Massachusetts.

All have appeared before local mat fans before, with the exception of Massong, who is highly rated in the South and who promises to put up a good bout with Anderson, a favorite with Victorians.

The local semi event has been promoted after numerous requests by fans to have Griffin meet Pears to a finish. In the event of the bout being a draw after the five rounds it will continue to a decision.

Draper and Burns are also known to local mat followers and no doubt will provide a fast mix. The first bout will start at 8:45 p.m.

A Noble Bird Among the Red Wings

REGINALD Noble, the old war horse now with Detroit Red Wings, has played more years in the National Hockey League than he cares to have published. Suffice to say that it is at least a dozen. And he has played with almost every team in the league. Here we see Noble in training, showing as much pep as he did ten years ago. Inset above is a closeup of John Ross Roach, the goat of last year's Stanley Cup play-offs while with the New York Rangers. Roach will be in the nets for Detroit in place of Alex Connell, who will be with Ottawa, his old love.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Singular Link River—Lying entirely within the city limits of Klamath Falls, Oregon, is the one-mile Link River, connecting Upper Klamath Lake with Lake Ewauna. Before the present dam was built to conserve the water in Upper Klamath Lake, the river was fed by the lake's overflow. At that time a strong prevailing wind from the south would actually blow the water away from the natural spillway, causing the river to dry up. This condition, of course, would exist for only a few hours at a time, its severity being felt most when the hydro-electric plant on the river bank was put out of commission.

School—The word "school" is derived from the Greek word "scole" meaning "rest, leisure, employment of leisure," and inferentially a "house of leisure."

ALBERTA WILL SEEK AMATEUR RULE CHANGE

Prairie Union Wants Pros and Simon-Pures to Be Allowed to Intermingle

WINNIPEG, Nov. 9 (CP).—Submission of an amendment to rules of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada which would enable professionals to play with amateurs, it is understood, will be made at the annual meeting of the union in Ottawa next month.

James I. Morkin, president of the Dominion body, told the Canadian Press he understood submission of such an amendment was planned by the Alberta branch of the union.

Opposition to any such plans will be raised by the Manitoba branch, assured President Morkin. The ground of such opposition, he said, would be "once a pro always a pro," and the belief by the Manitoba members that there are plenty of young fellows continually being developed to fill all amateur ranks.

OTTAWA RUGBY MEN SUSPENDED

Walter Masters and Rolf Carlsten Expelled From Game on Account of Professionalism

HAMILTON, Nov. 9 (CP).—Walter Masters and Rolf Carlsten, stars of the Ottawa Roughriders in the Interprovincial Rugby Union, today were expelled from competition in the Canadian game. Announcement was made this afternoon by President Septimus DuMoulin, of the Interprovincial Union.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 9.—Rugby players who played with or against Wally Masters and Rolf Carlsten, of Ottawa Roughriders, knowing they were professionals, are liable to suspension from amateur athletics, James I. Morkin, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, said today.

Masters and Carlsten were expelled from Rugby today.

CHAMPION LEAFS TO TANGLE WITH RUGGED BRUINS IN FEATURE

Stanley Cup Holders and Boston Team Will Clash at Toronto—Maroons to Take On Lester Patrick's Rangers at Montreal, While Red Wings Play Hosts to Black Hawks at Detroit

By PATRICK O'LEARY
Central Press Canadian Staff Writer

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—All hail king hockey! Hail to thrills and spills and chills—and frills! For tomorrow night hockey, for the season of 1932-33 makes its debut in three large cities — Toronto, Montreal and Detroit. That is, hockey—major league professional hockey. But the hockey that everybody eats. In Toronto, the world champion Maple Leafs take on the revamped Boston Bruins; in Montreal, the Maroons, under the leadership of Eddie Gerard, with practically a new team, entertain Lester Patrick and his New York Rangers; in Detroit, the Falcon—I beg your pardon, the Red Wings—will play host to the Chicago Black Hawks—Gardiner and all.

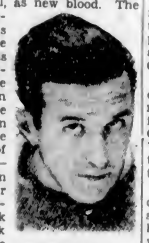
CONNIE SMYTHE

Close to fifty thousand people will see these three games which literally "break the ice" to another season.

The new season will be a humdinger. At least so 'tis said. The Toronto Leafs, winners of the Stanley Cup last year, are slight favorites in the preseason doping to win again. They have the same team intact from last year with the exception of Frank Finnegan, who will wear an Ottawa sweater for the season. In his place is Ken Doraty, last year with the Syracuse Stars in the minor leagues. The kid line, Conacher, Primeau and Jackson are all back—and all happily married. The Clancy-Day defence is back for another season, and Lorne Chabot is still in the nets.

BRUINS ARE STRONGER

They meet Art Ross' new Boston team with Nelson Stewart, last year with Montreal, as new blood. The Bruins are going places this year—and one of the places is not at the bottom of the league. In Montreal the new Maroon team and the Rangers, of New York—who will again have their greatest playmaker, Frank Boucher—hook sticks in the opening fracas.



FRANK BOUCHER

There is a new spirit in the Maroon camp; they have a new manager—a man who knows hockey from net to net—and they have several new players, including Hughie Plaxton, who found the law business not so lucrative as professional hockey all these years. Hugh, you will remember, was one of the outstanding stars of the University of Toronto Grads, who swept through to cyclonic victory at the 1928 Olympic Games. He has played no hockey since. But Hugh was, and probably still is, one of the greatest hockey players in Canada. Fast, brainy, courageous, he should be an outstanding star in the professional game.

Watch the Montreal Maroons; they will go far this year—and will be more popular with the fans since Eddie Gerard stated he would ban any "kitty-bar-the-door" stuff.

DETROIT IS CLASSY

And in Detroit, the Red Wings will do their best to subdue the Chicago Black Hawks—and they should encounter little difficulty. Jack Adams has a real team under his wing this year. Headed by Captain Larry Aurie, and with John Ross Roach in goal, they will give every team in the league a battle royal. It is an open question, however, whether or not they have the polish of a world championship team.

As for Chicago, they have little, except Chuck Gardiner, to warrant a place anywhere in the list. It is not even likely, unless some drastic changes are made, that they will get into the N.H.L. play-offs. And that is not a difficult feat under the system now in vogue.

This year there are nine teams in the league. Ottawa has returned to the fold to try again. And fans all over the circuit are pulling for the under Senators to enjoy a successful season. It is likely that if they do not succeed this year, their franchise will be changed to a larger city. But Ottawa should have a fighting team. They haven't got the classiest players in the league, but they have got a fighting team. McInenly, Finnegan, Touhey and Kilrea are all fighters and How! Fight counts for a lot in this game of hockey. And they have a scoring ace in Cooney Weiland. The remnants of the team of two years ago are ready to do or die for dear old Parliament Hill. They swing into action against the Montreal Maroons on Saturday. A tough assignment for the first game—but they'll be at home.

JOE SIMPSON

AMERKS A QUESTION

The New York Americans, under the direction of Bullet Joe Simpson, the famous Western Canada product, get on the move on Sunday in Chicago. The Amerks this year are more or less an unknown quantity. No one seems to know whether they have a team or not. Joe Simpson says they have, and he will put some pep into them. They should beat Chicago, but they may not beat Gardiner. They have added Wasnie, Martin, Jackson and Thorstonson, and Jumping-Jack Roy Worters is still in the nets.

And now the Canadiens. We hear little from their camp except that Howie Morenz is still as speedy as ever; that Joliat is still as tricky; that Pete Lepine is playing good hockey despite the fact that he broke his leg last year in the play-offs; that Hainsworth is still the old eagle-eye in goal.

So taking it all in all, by and large, we're in for a hectic hockey season this year, with the Stanley Cup on the shelf, and everyone ready to grab it. There's the whistle! Play hockey!

MANAGERS' STATEMENTS

TORONTO, Nov. 9 (CP).—Confidence tempered by healthy respect for opponents' strength marks preseason statements of National Hockey League managers and coaches gathered today by the Canadian Press. Though optimism is reflected in the opinion of each team head, none makes bold to claim the championship before the race has started and none is underrating the strength of other outfits.

Here are their statements:

Coach Dick Irvin, of the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs: "The brand of hockey this year, in my opinion, will be the best from a competitive standpoint that has been seen in the National Hockey League for some years."

Lester Patrick, New York Rangers' manager: "I look for the Rangers to go places. Babe Siebert will prove a big help to the Blue Shirts and we have a promising star in Carl Voss."

Newsy Lalonde, Montreal Canadiens' manager: "I think both Canadiens and Boston Bruins will be in the lead for the championship. Of course, Toronto Leafs and New York Rangers lok very strong, but the balance of the clubs are untested."

Joe Simpson, New York Americans' manager: "Toronto Leafs are still the class of the league and will be the team to beat, but Americans will give them a battle all the way. We are 50 per cent stronger."

Eddie Gerard, Montreal Maroons' manager: "We are not going to win every game we play, but we are going to win as many as we lose."

Jack Adams, Detroit Red Wings' manager: "We have a young club, and I don't know how they will come through, but I know they will show a lot of color and speed."

Cach Emil Iverson, of Chicago Black Hawks: "The team, because of the players' long association together, is at least 15 per cent stronger than ever before."

Optimistic but respectful is Art Roos, Boston Bruins' pilot: "I believe our present squad has power and class sufficient to make Bruins contenders. However, we respect all teams in the league and this year's race should be close and interesting."

Cy Denneny, manager of Ottawa Senators: "With three well-balanced forward lines, we expect the Senators to give a good account of themselves."

BEAVERS HAND 5TH REGIMENT THIRD CAGE DEFEAT

Robertson's Two Baskets in Final Seconds Win Tilt

Pair of Beauties in Dying Stages of Game Bring 26-25 Surprise Triumph Over Gunners—J.B.A.A. Blues Trim Harmony 25-19—Dad's Cookies Down J.B.A.A. Whites 31-18

Sweeping down on their opponents like an eagle after its prey in the dying seconds of the game, Beavers sprang one of the biggest surprises of the local cage season last night at the High School gymnasium by handing the 5th Regiment a 26-25 defeat in the men's senior "A" division of the Victoria and District Basketball League after another thrilling tussle. J.B.A.A. Blues came through with a mild surprise win in the opener over Harmony in the women's senior "B" section, 25-19, while Dad's Cookies took the measure of J.B.A.A. Whites in the same loop by a 31-18 score.

Two beautiful one-handed baskets by George Robertson, husky forward, seconds before the final whistle was the difference between defeat and victory for the Regiment. Robertson broke a twenty-two-all deadlock half a minute from time and then broke away by himself to score seconds from the end. It was a thrilling finish, and the fans were in a frenzy as Referee Macedo's whistle sounded. It marked the third successive defeat for the gunners.

BEAVERS TAKE LEAD

Preston, Tubman and Goldsmith sent the Beavers away to a 9-2 lead in the first three minutes. Jones worked into position to tally for the gunners, his second of the game, and then tossed in another shortly after to make the score 11-6. Tubman banged in a rebound from Levy's foul shot and the Beavers continued their fine ball handling and team work during the remainder of the half to leave the court at the interval with a 17-9 lead.

Fast passing and accurate shooting by the 5th featured the early minutes of the last canto, and they soon sliced the Beavers' lead. Martin and Cudlip both accounted for two baskets each, while Jones converted a foul to give the troops the lead for the first time. The teams continued at a dizzy pace and the score was deadlocked twice during the next five minutes. With time fleeing fast and the score standing 22-22, Robertson took a pass under the hoop to flip in a beautiful one-handed shot and then, seconds later, broke away by himself to give the Beavers a 26-22 lead. Patrick tossed in a basket and scored a foul just as the whistle sounded.

Brilliant all-round playing of "Chuck" Preston, diminutive Beavers' guard, was one of the highlights of the game. He was all over the floor and turned in a great game throughout.

BAYS WIN

With Isabel Crawford and "Buddy" Elston registering two baskets each in the last half, coupled with fine defensive work on the part of E. Johnson and C. Yeamans, J.B.A.A. Blues took the measure of Harmony in the first women's fixture. The Blues showed fine teamwork throughout, which accounted for their victory. Free scoring featured the first half, with the count deadlocked at the interval at 15-15. Harmony's shooting in the last half was poor, while the Blues kept up their strong offensive to win out.

RALLY FOR VICTORY

Although the score appears one-sided, the Cookies had a narrow escape with the J.B.A.A. Whites, a strong rally in the last four minutes bringing the winners through. Cookies led at the end of the first quarter and walked off the floor at half time with the score still in their favor, 14-8. The tide changed at the start of the third quarter and the Bays tossed in basket after basket to assume the lead. Cookies opened up a strong attack in the last few minutes of the final quarter. Kay Freestone tied the score and then Ina Foubister broke the deadlock. The latter player threw in two more and Berta Peden wrote finish to the Bays' chances with a couple of more baskets.

"It is all your fault. You should have crossed your fingers when you saw that piebald horse."—Grune Post, Berlin.

British Sport Shots

By WILLIS ENTWISTLE

How quickly a footballer fades out of the public eye. So little has been said about Willie Moffat at Motherwell one had almost forgotten his existence. And this the player who only a year ago was being spoken of in an international connection, the man who was the backbone of Hamilton Academicals up until his transfer to Motherwell midway through last season.

He has only taken part in one game since the start of the season. That was the day George Stevenson was assisting the Scots international side at Belfast. He is not asked to turn out with the reserve eleven. Saturday after Saturday he stands by as reserve for the first team. Unless either George Stevenson or John McMenemy is not available, Willie Moffat, a grand forward, has to look on.

• • •

Motherwell has every position, with the exception of outside left, duplicated, and efforts are being made to get an experienced winger so that no matter who is away, there will be a good substitute.

• • •

"Dally" Duncan, Derby County's outside left has been scoring goals with amazing regularity and is the official penalty-taker for his club. When his club played the Arsenal recently Duncan did not score himself but it was two centres by the little Scotsman that Roberts, Arsenal centre half put through his own goal and thus made history by scoring two goals for the opposition in one match.

• • •

Here's a queer story. A well-known player, not signed, one day met Hookey Leonard, who was on the point of being signed by Morton. The player in question button-holed "Hookey," and after a conversation proceeded to get in touch with the Falkirk "heads."

Falkirk had a notion of Leonard, and they quickly phoned to Sunderland. But in the Sunderland manager's room at that moment was Chairman Williamson, of Morton, putting the final touches to the signing of Leonard.

Morton got Leonard all right, but it was a near thing, wasn't it?

• • •

The will to win is all very well, but when it connotes deliberate handling of the ball the fan most strongly disapproves. On three occasions in the match between Celtic and St. Johnstone the ball was handled flagrantly — twice by a Celtic defender, and once by a Saint.

There was no question about the deliberation. The players simply said, "This ball is beating me if I don't palm it. So palm it I will." After the incident they immediately ran back a few yards into position for the inevitable free kick.

• • •

Which player still in football had once opened a scoring account for each of three clubs in league football by the time the season was only seven weeks old?

Ernest Dixon, now of Tranmere Rovers, is the man. In season 1929-30, he had scored league goals for Halifax, Huddersfield and Nelson by the time mentioned.

• • •

For the first time in history an English women's cricket team may visit Australia in 1934.

The New South Wales Women's Cricket Association has been in close touch with the All-England Women's Cricket Council regarding the matter, and there is a distinct possibility that their efforts will meet with success.

A chorus of approval has greeted the idea in Sydney, and C. G. Macartney thinks it is a fine suggestion. There are seventy women's cricket clubs with 1,000 players in New South Wales alone.

If the 1934 English visit is a success, it is proposed to send an Australian girls' team to England in 1936.

• • •

The missionary activities of that keen cricketer, Sir Julian Cahn, seem to be endless. He recently returned from a tour of Denmark, and it is probable that as the outcome or suggestions which he made in the course of his visit several Danish clubs and schools will now engage English coaches.

For next year Sir Julien is planning a cricket tour of Canada and the United States. He has already taken teams to Jamaica and also to the Argentine, where he was largely instrumental in arranging the visit which the South Americans paid us this Summer.

Sir Julien's interest in the game is also gratefully remembered in Cuba. Some keen league cricket is now played there under the title of the Sir Julien Cahn Competition. The clubs compete annually for a cup presented by Sir Julien a few years ago after a visit to the island.

The small girl met the doctor near her home.

"You brought a little baby next door, didn't you?" she inquired.

"Yes," he answered; "shall I bring one to your house?"

"No, thanks," came the prompt reply. "Why, we've scarcely time even to wash the dog."

RATIFICATION NOW POSSIBLE

Fraser Salmon Canners Optimistic Concerning Treaty Between Canada and U.S.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 9 (CP).—The Fraser River again with a $30,000,000 salmon industry is the rosy picture envisioned by Fraser River fish canners who are optimistic regarding ratification of the Fraser River Salmon Treaty, following results of the United States elections.

The treaty draft between Canada and the United States regulates commercial salmon fishing in British Columbia and Washington waters. Opposition from Washington state blocked the treaty, it is stated. It is believed that the new party will be more willing to co-operate.

Authorities state that only by proper regulation of catches and general conservation methods between the two countries will the Fraser River ever regain its place as a $30,000,000 canned salmon industry.

Sockeye runs have been depleted in recent years by ruthless and unregulated catches of fish by United States traps, it is stated. The result, in recent years, has been that fewer fish reach the spawning grounds.

Consensus of opinion here is that the present regulation gives United States fishermen the "cream" of the catch.

BANDITS STEAL CAR AND MONEY

Three Hold Up Vancouver Druggist—Escape in Shower of Bullets

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9.—Three youthful bandits held up W. Smith, attendant at Browne's Garage, 634 Howe Street, last night and escaped with a car belonging to an Oregon motorist.

Fifteen minutes later they held up F. W. Fawcett, druggist, in his store at 3750 Oak Street, and obtained $5 from the cash register. Mr. Fawcett fired four shots at the car as the youths sped away.

Two of the trio held Smith under threat of a revolver while the third searched the garage for car. One youth took $3 from Smith's pockets and $17 from the cash register. He also demanded that Smith open the safe but abandoned the attempt when the third man started the car which he had appropriated. The auto has not yet been recovered.

Mrs. F. Raneko was held up in her store at 773 Beatty Street and robbed of $3.

GUINNESS

Guinness is good for the blood. It contains valuable phosphates which enrich the blood, and it also clears the blood by keeping the system in good working order. For these reasons Guinness is good for the complexion, and is also specially recommended by Doctors for those suffering from Anaemia or Boils.

Doctors Say of Guinness

"I believe that Guinness is the very best tonic there is in cases of debility."

M.A., M.R.C.S.

"I have found Guinness of inestimable value in cases of anaemia and all states of debility with loss of appetite. The patient gathers strength more rapidly than without it, and the appetite returns to normal in the same way. I esteem Guinness as a first-rate tonic beverage."

Stock and Bond Prices Drop at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP).—Financial markets were heavy today in the first "postelection" trading. Activity was very light in both stocks and bonds, which led some brokers to feel results of trading had not been entirely conclusive. In neither direction nor turnover did the markets vary greatly from many of those over the past month or so.

Leading stocks lost one to more than three points on total sales of 1,268,060 shares. Bonds droned through a quiet day, showing a small average loss. Wheat averaged a cent and a half lower, while cotton, contending against a larger November 1 crop estimate than had been expected, was off 80 cents to $1 a bale after making larger declines.

Wall Street brokerage houses pointed out results of Tuesday's balloting had not been a surprise in many quarters. Firmness of the United States dollar against European gold currencies received considerable attention; the suggestion being made that Europe felt United States money would not be affected by the impending shift at Washington.

Stocks began the day with a rally, which was quite in keeping with trading. However, the advance was short-lived, and after advancing from a fraction to a point leaders reversed their course. After midday the market was stagnant.

The "antiprohibition" stocks, which were bid up rather energetically just before election, held fairly well. Considerable pressure was directed against American Telephone on publication of phone losses for October, although Wall Street is expecting another regular dividend will be voted next Wednesday. The shares lost 3 5-8 net. U.S. Steel, American Can, New York Central, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, Union Pacific, Steel preferred, Harvester, Case, and American Smelting lost two to three net, the average decline for ninety issues being just midway between those figures.

Aside from some of the more speculative groups, the bond market apparently paid scant attention to the numerous election "post-mortems," and prices generally followed their recently dull and irregular course.

The indifferent attitude of traders and investors was exemplified by the low sales aggregate of $7,804,000, par value, which was even under that of Monday. The average for sixty corporate bonds was off two-tenths of a point against a gain of four-tenths of a point on Monday.

Canadian Government 4 1-2's were again soft, dropping 1 5-8 points. Canadian National Railway issues firmed and Canadian Pacific bonds drifted lower. Australians and Germans moved up moderately, while British 5 1-2's were fractionally lower.

United States Government bonds displayed an easier tone.

WHEAT PRICES DECLINE AGAIN

Losses of Nearly One Cent Recorded by Futures at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Nov. 9 (CP).—Liberally supplied with offerings throughout most of the session, wheat prices reacted from early fractional advances to show losses of 1-2 to 3-4 cent on the Winnipeg grain market today.

Continued hedging pressure and liquidation lopped off gains of as much as 3-4 cent scored at the opening and sent the market on the down trend. Lack of export sales also contributed to weakness here, overnight sales being estimated at only 500,000 bushels.

Further losses in December future were prevented by some undetermined outside support. This option declined 5-8 cent at 47. July delivery eased the same amount to 51 5-8, and November and May each were off a half cent at 46 3-4 and 51 cents respectively.

Chicago interests appeared on both sides of the market at intervals throughout the session.

Cash wheat and coarse grains were dull.

Silver Markets

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Bar silver, quiet, unchanged at 18 3-8.

AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Bar silver easier, 1-8 lower at 27 1-4.

Eastern Exchanges Find No Stimulus In Election Results

MONTREAL, Nov. 9 (CP).—The anticipated rise in the market following the United States elections did not materialize on the Montreal Stock Exchange today.

After four consecutive days of advancing prices the market reacted in line with a lower trend in New York and at the close losses ranging up to 3 1-2 points outnumbered gains four to one.

Canadian Industrial Alcohol "A" continued to hold the centre of interest, leading the list in activity with a turnover of nearly 3,000 shares. It was unable to hold yesterday's gain, however, and receded 1-4 from its year's high to close at 3. The "B" shares were steady at 2 1-4.

Point losses were recorded by Canadian Pacific, National Breweries and Montreal Power. Brazilian and Nickel each lost half a point, the former closing at 9 1-2 and Nickel at 9 5-8. Consolidated Smelters yielded 3 1-2 points to 69.

Five issues advanced. Bank of Montreal closed 3 points higher at 188. Quebec Power picked up a point at 14, while fractional advances were shown by Lake of the Woods, B.C. Power and Hollinger Mines.

Sales totaled 10,937 shares; bonds, $40,100.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Nov. 9 (CP).—Toronto Stock Exchange traders still stand in a neutral position ready to hop off in whatever direction Wall Street may lead. After floundering in uncertainty the market closed today with 14 losses, 14 gains and 14 stocks unchanged.

Anticipating a Wall Street post-election rally the opening was strong today with the leaders well above the previous close, but a half hour of marking up prices was followed by a marking down process which lasted till the close. On the day, C.P.R. lost 7-8 to 15 3-4; Nickel, 5-8 to 9 1-2; Brazilian, 1-2 to 9 1-2, and Consolidated Smelters, 3 1-4 to 68 3-4. Ford "A" was unchanged at 8.

Feature of the market was buying of Walkers common, apparently picked as one stock that would come in for much new business with a "wet" Government in Washington. The stock jumped to 7 7-8 this morning, and then sold off to close at 7 1-4, up 1-4. Nearly 9,000 shares changed hands. It was apparent the selling orders exceeded buying orders after the first hour.

Other distillery stocks were only moderately affected.

Imperial Oil had an active day and closed unchanged at 9, but International Pete gained 1-8 and B.A. was unchanged. Small gains were made by Consumers Gas, Bell Telephone, Imperial Tobacco, F. N. Burt, Pressed Metals and Brant Cordage.

Western Canada Flour preferred and G. Weston were off 3 points each and Shawinigan lost a full point.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Nov. 9 (CP).—Standard Stock and Mining Exchange found nothing to cheer about in the election of the Democrats and the market was weak through most of the day after a fairly firm opening. Recessions cropped up in all sections, but base metals were the most depressed as a group, the result possibly of lower metal prices abroad.

Trade was active in both Noranda and Nickel, and the former closed off 30 and the latter 55. In the same group, Falconbridge was off 5 to 1.87; Hudson Bay, 20 to 3.90, and Sherritt, 3 to 44. Ventures, in a heavy turnover, picked up 1 to close at 74, having been down to 70 earlier.

In gold stocks the trade was about up to the average and price changes were small in either direction. Wright - Hargreaves and Teck Hughes were off 1 point each; Hollinger was down 5; McIntyre, unchanged; Dome, down 30; Lake Shore, up 30, and B.C. Pioneer, off 5.

Peninsular Pete was given a whirl that sent it shooting up from 13 to 17 1-2 and then it came down much faster to the starting point and closed with a loss of 1 point.

Silver stocks held very well, Mining Corporation showing a 1-point gain, and the others, including Eldorado, closing unchanged.

Teck-Hughes Gold Has Record Year

TORONTO, Nov. 9 (CP).—Net profit of Teck-Hughes Gold Mines, Limited, for the fiscal year ended August 31 was equivalent to 69 cents per share on the 4,807,144 shares outstanding as compared with 69.03 cents a share on the 4,797,000 shares issued on August 31, 1931, the annual report states today.

Net earnings, amount of dividends disbursed and surplus are all at the highest points since the company was incorporated.

Reserve funds and surplus have been conserved without loss, according to D. L. H. Forbes, president. The report shows that during the year $54,091 profit was made from the sale of securities.

Montreal Produce

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—Declines in cheese and butter prices coupled with an advance in egg quotations were in the main movements on the produce and dairy market here today.

Grass butter declined a quarter of a cent to 21 cents a pound, with odder butter being quoted at 20 3-4 cents a pound.

Less than carlot prices of Ontario fresh graded eggs were up 2 to 3 cents. Extras were 42 to 43 cents, firsts 36 to 38 cents. Pullet extras 33 cents and seconds 33 cents a dozen.

British Columbia fresh extras were sold at 38 cents, firsts at 34 cents and pullets 31 cents, f.o.b., which means 5 1-2 cents more delivered here. Storage eggs were unchanged.

URGES CONVERSION OF CANADIAN ISSUES TO LOWER INTEREST RATE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9.—Conversion or refunding of Canada's national debt is necessary to this country's future welfare, declared Leon J. Ladner, K.C., in addressing the Active Club at dinner here.

It is better that Canada receive a lower rate of interest on national bonds for a few years and preserve their full value, than risk collapse of the financial system, the speaker contended. He pointed out that France is about to attempt such a conversion or refunding loan and that Australia has partially effected such a scheme.

Money Markets

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Money, 1-2; discount rates, short bills 5-8 to 11-16, three-month bills 11-16 to 3-4 per cent.

AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Call money steady, 1 per cent all day. Time loans steady; sixty days 1-2, three to four months 3-4, five to six months 1 per cent. Prime commercial paper 1 1-2. Bankers' acceptances unchanged.

That Body of Yours

WHY INJECTING HEMORRHOIDS (PILES) SOMETIMES FAILS

Perhaps no new single treatment for an ailment has aroused so much interest as has the method of injecting hemorrhoids, or piles, instead of the old method of operation which also meant confinement in hospital for ten days to three weeks.

Like every other new method, there have been failures, but these are practically all due to injecting hemorrhoids that were unsuitable for the injection method.

Dr. W. A. Fausler, assistant professor of surgery, University of Wisconsin, who has been treating hemorrhoids by the injection method for the past fifteen years, upwards of 5,000 cases having been thus treated by him, tells what are and what are not the suitable cases for this method.

"The only hemorrhoids suitable for this form of treatment are the 'internal' type—that is, hemorrhoids that are moist and velvety in appearance rather than the smooth, dry or external hemorrhoids."

The solution favored by Dr. Fausler is quinine and urea hydrochloride. "The solution should be irritating enough to produce marked induration (hardening of the tissues) but not t. ating enough to cause a slough."

The quinine solution should not be given to patients who are sensitive to quinine

The injection method will produce excellent results in the large percentage of internal hemorrhoids, but the injections should be continued until the entire hemorrhoid or pile has disappeared.

In other words, now that hundreds of thousands of cases have been successfully treated by this method, it has established itself as the ideal method of treating internal hemorrhoids. It is only when it is used on the external type or on an internal pile that extends too low or too near the external opening, that failure may result.

The great superiority of this method over that of operating, as mentioned before, is that the patient loses no time from work and needs no hospit l treatment.

He simply goes to the doctor's office every few days or every couple of weeks, suffers little if any pain from the injections, and is able to go home or to business without any trouble whatever.

Naturally, the expense is much less, as there is no anaesthetist necessary, no operating room expenses, no hospital expenses, and no loss of time from work.

GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP).—Ivan Seruva, nineteen-year-old student who police said was carrying bricks when arrested in the garden of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's home on November 2, was given a suspended sentence of two years today.

Policeman: "As soon as I saw you come around the bend I said to myself, 'forty-five at least'."

Lady Driver: "How dare you? It's this hat that makes me look so old."

A "SHINING LIGHT"

"He's all right, but he's no shining light!"

In that negation we have the typical use of the expression "shining light" to describe someone of extraordinary qualities. In this day its most frequent use is with reference to accomplishments, success. In its origin, however, its significance was of spiritual things.

Its source is in the Bible, in the fifth book of St. John, where Jesus is telling of John. He says:

33: "Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34: But I receive not testimony from man; but these things I say, that ye mig' t be saved.

35: He was a burning and a shining light; and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light."

Wootton appeared for the Crown and H. W. Davey for the accused. The Chinese was apprehended by members of the narcotic squad of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

Will you believe it, Rover and I got badly lost in the fog of a night or two ago. We got so terribly tangled up that, even today, we are not quite sure where we do live.

Maybe you were not out of doors that evening and so do not realize just how foggy it was; or you may have been down town, where it was foggy to a certain degree, but the street lights and the Neon signs at least made things discernible.

If that were the case, you cannot appreciate how thick the fog was beyond the brilliantly lighted part of the city, or how impenetrable the dashed old fogginess was where Rover and I were rambling, trying to find the house of a friend who, like the majority of Victorians, places his house number where one would least expect to find it.

LATE FOR DINNER

Even street names were difficult to locate and harder still to read, for the blessed fog out L—— Street way was thick and gooey. Rover had diversions en route which occupied his time and his mental abilities, but I had none to take my wretched mind off the beastly fog; a cold fog; an exasperating fog.

In consequence of our being lost, in thought, in fog, and in the neighborhood of L—— Street, we were very late for dinner; and, no doubt, our hostess, who possesses a sweet voice and comes from 'twixt Tweed and Thames, put in the time between when we should have arrived and the time when we did arrive, by singing in her amiable and smiling way that old ditty, which we, too, used to warble in our youth, with certain variations:

"Oh! dear! what can the matter be?
Dear, dear, what can the matter be?
Oh! dear! what can the matter be?
Rovers are lost in the fog!"

It was a farewell dinner, and we never had a better, and the family made the remainder of the evening one to be "marked with a white stone."

WORST YET TO COME

Usually, even when we have extreme difficulty in finding our way to a street or house, because of misdirections or hidden numbers, we have no trouble in finding our way home; but on this foggy night we must have forgotten where we lived, for the morning after we discovered in The Daily Colonist that we were mentioned as living in a building into which we have never so much as entered, and we are sure we live on another street and in a building that has a name as dissimilar as Government Street is to Yates Street.

So you see what a fuzzy fog can do! It can make two rovers almost miss a good dinner; but the worst is yet to come. It can also change their entire address, street and name of building, which is curious.

It may not have been the fog at all, but rather that a secretary got befogged and therefore befuddled. Folks do sometimes get that way!

SEEKING SITE IN NANAIMO

Chair-Manufacturing Firm Anxious to Establish Plant on Island

NANAIMO, Nov. 9.—The regular monthly meeting of Nanaimo Board of Trade was held last evening, with President W. W. R. Mitchell presiding.

A communication was received from the Comox Farmers' Institute requesting the board's endorsation of a resolution passed by that body, protesting the unfair price cutting of farm products by chain stores and retail merchants. After discussion the secretary was instructed to inform the institute that the local board was not in a position to do anything about it at the present time.

A firm from Bellingham, Washington, wrote, stating it was desirous of establishing a chair manufacturing plant in British Columbia, and wanted to know as to whether a building with a 15,000-foot area was available in Nanaimo, and the possibility of a bonus to assist the establishing of the plant. The president informed the meeting that he had written the firm in question suggesting several sites outside the city. The president's action was endorsed.

H. Cathcart, deputy minister of works, wrote, replying to a communication from the board in regard to the flooding of Brennan Lake, and stated that the department had no money to carry out the work suggested, but would be pleased to meet the delegation to discuss the matter. The delegation will leave today.

Communications were received from the Minister of National Revenue, C. H. Dickie, M.P., Saanich Board and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, regarding the resolution passed by the local board pertaining to a reciprocal arrangement, whereby visiting Canadians would be permitted to bring $100 worth of goods from the United States duty free. The communications were laid on the table.

Under the heading of new business Mr. Herdman reported on the City Beautiful plan. Mr. Herdman expressed great pleasure on the work the City Council was following up by working on the boulevards. He said the question of seeding would come up when the boulevards were ready for it.

The question of an assembling wharf for Nanaimo was again brought up for discussion. It was the general opinion of all present that the need of a wharf was essential, and that no time should be lost in gathering the necessary data required by the Government. Mr. George Pearson, M.P.P., was of the opinion that the board would be well advised to be prepared for the rush of the lumber business, which would eventually come when things were back to normal.
